AMERICAN INSULTED.

Germany Heaps Numerous Indignities Upon Glaser.

Arrested and Thrown Into Prison and His Passport, Bearing Gresham's Signature, Dishonored.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 30—William Glaser, an engineer on the Valley railroad and a resident of this city, has just returned from a visit to his old home in Germany. Glaser came to this country nine years ago when a boy, and is a naturalized citizen. While in Reichnau, German, he was arrested and thrown into prison for having failed to serve three years in the army, as required by the German law. The authorities informed him that for the offense he had been fined 200 marks and must serve forty days in jail. His passport, signed by Secretary W. Q. Gresham, was taken from him and numerous other indignities offered. The cell in which he was confined was in a most filthy condition. After much trouble Glaser succeeded in securing a hearing and was finally told that his sentence had been remitted, but that he must not leave Germany until his case had been investigated by a higher court. He, however, left the country at the first opportunity. While in jail Mr. Glaser learned that an American citizen was in an adjoining cell and had been there for thirteen months because he refused to join the army. Glaser has not yet decided as to whether he will make a report to the state department concerning the matter.

MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR

Connected With the Disappearance of Mrs. E. T. Gardiner.

BOSTON, July 30.—A most mysterious affair connected with the recent Christian Endeavor convention here has just come to light. Mrs. E T. Gardiner, of Arcadia, Neb., who came here as a delegate from Nebraska, has not yet returned to her home and her husband and child, and the report of her death here is not supported by the records by any known facts. Mrs. Gardiner is fifty years old. She had always apparently been healthy, and when her husband received from her a letter dated July 15, stating that she was about to die, he was astounded Following that letter come another, signed "Mr. J. Brown, of South Bend," which neither Mr. Gardiner nor any one else knows, stating that the woman was dead, and that in the interest of economy her body would be buried here. The death registeries bear no record of any such death, and the detectives employed by Mr. Gardiner have failed to find a trace of Mrs. Gardiner, dead or alive. It is feared by some of those interested in the case that Mrs. Gardiner had been spirited away by thieves who were attracted by the large sum of money and valuable jewelry she carried, while some believe she died, and that her body was secured for dissection purposes. When Mrs. Gardiner was in Boston she did not stay with the rest of the Nebraska delegation at the state headquarters, but with some friends who cannot now be found.

CONFESSED THE CRIME.

The Murderer of Mrs. Cain Tells His Story.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 30.—Emmett Divers, the colored man who was brought here several days ago from Hannibal, Mo, to escape lynching for the outrage and murder of Mrs. J. W. Cain, near Fulton, last Tuesday, has confessed. He said he outraged her and then cut her throat eight times. Divers went into the bloody details of his crime without any emotion, other than to smile at times.

News of the tragedy reached Fulton at noon. Sheriff Windsor and his deputies and a posse were soon on a trail that led to the capture of Divers in the afternoon at a farmhouse two miles from where the crime was committed. He was taken to Fulton immediately after his capture and was hurried out of there at night to avoid a mob and taken to Mexico, Mo. From there he was transferred to other towns in succession and was finally brought to St. Louis from Hannibal.

ACTORS ARRESTED.

The Play Entitled "A Crime of a Century" is Suppressed.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—The production of the play entitled "The Crime of a Century," which was placed on the stage at the Alcasar theatre last night was stopped in the middle of the third act, just at the point where Dubois, the character who is supposed to impersonate Durrant, was about to drag a young woman to the belfry of a church. Sheriff Wheland and his deputies marched on the stage and arrested the performers, eleven in all. The manager of the theatre was also placed under arrest. The manager stepped before the curtain and made a speech, in which he claimed he had a right to produce the play, but he was taken into custody nevertheless for disobeying the order made by Judge Murphy restraining him from putting the piece on the stage. A great crowd attended the performance, which was hissed at intervals. The whole company spent the night in jail.

WEDDING AT LONDON.

The Duke of Argyle Married to Ina McNiell.

LONDON, July 30.—The duke of Argyle was married today to Miss Ina McNiell, formerly a lady of the bed chamber to the queen, and a cousin of Sir John McNiell, who married the duke of Argyle's sister. The ceremony took place at the palace of Ripon and was performed by the bishop of Ripon, who is a cousin of the bride. The wedding was quiet, owing to the recent death of Lord Colin Campbell, fifth son of the duke of Argyle.

TROOPS TO THE FRONT.

Their Destination is Union Pass, Wyoming.

Reports of Conflicts Between Whites and Indians in the Teton Country Are Coming In.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 30.—Information received in this city is to the effect that several collisions between Indians and whites have occurred, not, however, in Jackson's Hole, but nearer the Teton country.

LANDER, Wyo., July 30—Fifty thoroughly armed and equipped horsemen have gone to Big Wind river. They were to be joined by thirty-five more mounted men at Horse creek, and will pick up such recruits as may be found along the route. Their destination was the vicinity of Union Pass, so they might hold off any hostiles who should come through any of the passes leading from Jackson's Hole. The men went out in two sections only a few minutes apart. The first squad was in command of Arthur M. Sparkshawk, ex-sheriff of the county. The second was headed by Sheriff Grimmet. Telegraphic orders have been received from Governor Richards by the commander of companies B, C, N and G to co-operate with the civil authorities for the protection of the people of the county. The passes leading into the Lander valley will be guarded and timely warning be given if the hostiles are driven this way by the military. Frank Lowe, guide and Indian fighter, reports twenty Bannocks camped in Little Paopaogie canon, nineteen miles directly south of this city. It was said they were on no hostile mission, simply skulking around the mountains to get out of harms way and doubtless with an eye to future business.

PEACEFUL NEWS FROM MARKET LANE.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—General Schofield today received the following telegram from headquarters of the department of the Platte, at Omaha, dated July 29:

"A courier who arrived at Market Lake this morning reports that when he left General Coppinger's troops last night, information had just been brought by a runner from Marysvale that all is quiet there. The Lemhi agent telegraphs that only three of his Indians are supposed to be in the Jackson Hole country, and there is no indication that others will join the uprising there."

The army officials regard this information as favorable to an early and peaceful termination of the Jackson Hole disturbance. The troops are due to arrive at Jackson's Hole this afternoon.

SEARCHING FOR BODIES

The Exploration of the Holmes House Continues.

The Vat Found Yesterday Contained Only a Few Gallons of Petroleum.

CHICAGO, July 30.—Peter Cigrand, father of Emiline Cigrand, who is said to have been murdered by H. H. Holmes, arrived in Chicago today with Philomina Cigrand, sister of the missing girl. With Dr. B. J. Cigrand, a relative, they went to police headquarters, where a secret conference was held with Chief Badenoch and Inspector Fitzpatrick. The search for the acid vats in the castle basements was continued. The tank which was uncovered yesterday was forced open, but nothing was found but a few inches of petroleum in the bottom of the vat. Old man Chappell's story that the tanks were used for dissolving human bodies was largely disproved of by today's investigation, but search for other vats was continued, as it was believed that Chappel might have been mistaken as to their location.

MORE BONES DISCOVERED.

In the course of the further excavation in H. H. Holmes' Sixty-third street building today, the police unearthed parts of two thigh bones, a piece of skull and four smaller pieces of bone.

THE WAGES OF SIN

Meted Out to Mrs. Hattie Covey.

She Left Husband, Child and a Good Home for a Life of Shame and Receives Her Award.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., July 30.—Mrs. Hattie Covey, wife of Burt Covey, a resident of Jayville, on the Carthage and Adirondack railroad, eloped June 22 with John Kirch, superintendent of a saw mill, leaving one child. Kirch left a wife and four children. They went to Michigan but, becoming dissatisfied, Mrs. Covey returned home Saturday night. She was told to leave town by the first train Monday morning and did so, going to Harrisville for legal advice. Armed with a peace warrant, she returned to Jayville, where her parents reside, and was met at the depot by a crowd of men, women and boys, who stripped her of her clothing and bruised her so terribly that she may die. No arrests have been made. Jayville is a small backwoods village, consisting mostly of huts.

Bank Failure.

SALISBURY, Mo., July 30—The bank of Salisbury closed its doors this morning. Shortage unknown. J. P. Finks was cashier, H. B. Branham assistant.

SALOONS AT HAMMOND.

Sunday Liquor Law Observed on the Indiana Side,

But on the Illinois Side it is Treated With Contempt, and Drunkenness is Rife.

HAMMOND, Ind, July 30.—Situated as it is on both sides of the line dividing the states of Indiana and Illinois, Hammond is quite difficult to bring under the restraint of the Nicholson law, and an illustration of this fact was demonstrated Sunday. Every saloon in the First, Second and Third wards was closed "as tight as a drum.' The three wards mentioned embrace the thickly populated district and contain some seventy saloons. Without exception these saloons complied with the provision of law requiring them to be closed on Sunday. The doors were locked, the blinds and screens drawn, so that their interior could be plainly seen, and the keepers and bartenders were conspicuous by their absence.

Yet by no means was it a "dry Sunday." No one suffered for want of his customary drink, and all because Hammond lies in two states Just across the state line and within a stone throw of the center of the city is the village of West Hammond. The village boasts of six saloons, and Sunday was their banner day. They sold more drinks in ahe eighteen hours ending with midnight than ever before in a month's time, with the possible exception of the preceding Sunday.

Profiting by the experience of one week ago, preparations had been made for an exceptionally busy day. An extra supply of beer had been laid in; additional bartenders had been engaged, and everything had been prepared for an immense business, but even then the supply was not equal to the demand, and long before night the breweries had to be called upon for a fresh supply.

All day long the six saloons in that usually quiet village were crowded with customers. Lines of people could be seen wending their way westward in quest of their Sunday drink.

The bucket brigade was out in force, the "growler" was in constant demand. Knots of people could be seen here and there and every few minutes one of their number would leave for the nearest saloon, bucket in hand, and that he never returned empty-handed could be seen by the expression on his face and the way in which he carried the "growler." Then they would all smile and the scene would be repeated.

But not alone to the west side was this state of affairs confined. The Fourth ward came in for its share of the patronage. This ward comprises the newly annexed territory north of the city, and extends to Lake Michigan. It embraces the towns of Roby and Robertsdale, and has some ten or twelve saloons within its border. These resorts were run "wide open" all day, no attempt whatever being made to conform to the law. At the main entrance to the race track at Roby there are three saloons, each of which did a "land office business." That point is the junction of the Hammond, Whiting and East Chicago and the South Chicago electric street railroads, and these lines carried hundreds of people there. The doors of the saloons were wide open, and the women and children on the outside could hear the ribald talk of the men within. The authorities seemed to have ignored the place entirely, as not a policeman was seen in the vicinity all day.

But in only one way have the saloonkeepers of this city complied with the law, and that is by closing on Sunday. All the other provisions of the law are violated every day. There are just as many pool and billiard tables as usual. Every saloon has its slot machines, and many of them have music boxes. Games of cards are going on in every saloon all day long and until late at night. Many of the places are run "wide open" from Monday morning until Saturday night, no attention whatever being paid to the 11 o'clock law.

One saloon man is fortunate enough to have his building so situated as to be in both Indiana and Illinois. He has applied for a license in Illinois and will hereafter run his bar on the Indiana side during the week and move over on the Illinois side on Sunday. It is needless to say that he is envied by all the other saloonkeepers, and it is not at all unlikely that other buildings may be erected in the near future which will have the same advantages.

What has induced the saloon men to close their places of business on Sunday can not be learned, unless it is through fear of indictments being returned through the efforts of law-abiding citizens.

An effort will be made this week to organize a league in West Hammond for the purpose of making war on the saloons of that village, but what the outcome will be can not be surmised. That place is populated by a foreign class of citizens who will not take kindly to any effort to close their saloons on Sunday, or any other day, for that matter. Should that project prove a failure, an effort will be made to have the local authorities deal severely with those who persist in going to West Hammond to get drunk and then return to the Indiana side of the line and show that they care nothing for the Nicholson law or anything else.

When the gambling dens in Chicago were closed a short time ago two or three first-class layouts were brought here and started up, in hopes that some of the "short haired fraternity" could be induced to come here and play, but the project soon fell through from want of patronage and the proprietors were compelled to pawn their paraphernalia in order to secure funds to leave town. There is no gambling going on now, except occasionally one hears of a private game of poker. It is doubtful if all the sports in town can raise enough money to open a first-class jack-pot. Only a year or two ago these same sports were in clover. Games were going on in every saloon in town, the gamblers were flush and everything was moving swimmingly.

RIOT AT NEGRO PICNIC.

Hodcarriers Had a Bloody Time at Knightstown.

Henry Travan Shoots at Will Warfield and Kills Bert Hawkins, a Citizen of Spiceland.

KNIGHTSTOWN, Ind., July 30.—Hod Carriers' union, No. 1, composed of colored people of Indianapolis, held a picnic at the fair grounds here yesterday. The train bearing the party was composed of five coaches and a baggage car, and brought to town between four and five hundred. They had provisions in plenty, and were accompanied by a brass band and other instrumental music. All passed off smoothly for a time until a major portion of the company became intoxicated. Beer was sold on the grounds by the picnic party without let or hinderance. During the afternoon there were numerous fights. All kinds of gambling known to the fraternity was carried on openly and aboveboard. At one of the halls a dance was in progress. Drinking was the general order.

It was on the race course in front of the grand stand where a regular hand-to hand encounter occurred, and men and women alike were mixed up in the melee. Henry Travern and a woman named Ellen Marshall, who were in the crowd, became involved in a quarrel, and Will Warfield, another colored man, interfered. Travan drew a revolver and shot at Warfield, but the ball went wide. Travan continued firing apparently at random, and one of the shots, no one seems to know which, struck Bert Hawkins, colored, of Spiceland, this county. The ball entered the left breast, in the region of the heart.

Hawkins was an innocent bystander, and had come to the picnic to spend the day. As soon as he was shot he lifted his hands to his breast and then dropped to the ground in a death-like swoon, and in a very short space of time he was dead. Hawkins was forty years old, and leaves a wife and five children.

Immediately after the shooting Travan fled, followed by a crowd of citizens. Close behind them, however, came a man named Omer McDonald, who held the posse at bay with a double barrel shotgun, while Travan escaped. Travan is a large, burly negro, and is considered a desperate character. He is said to belong at Louisville, Ky. He did not leave with the rest of the excursionists, but is still in the neighborhood, and the authorities are making every effort to effect his capture.

REMARKABLE CAVE

Has Been Found Along White River, in Arizona.

YUMA, Ari., July 30—On the White river, eight miles from Camp Apache, has been found a remarkable cave. For 600 feet of the distance the explorers were obliged to crawl on their hands and knees, using candles and bullseye's lanterns for light. They found between 300 and 400 human skeletons, indicating the remains of persons who had perhaps been smothered to death by smoke long years ago. Some of them were in crevices just large enough to admit a body. The skeletons are of various sizes, some being very small. The skulls are of a brown color, with the exception of a few that are white. The White Mountain Apaches are very superstitious about the cave, and say that within it there is a large lake of water. The visitors found no water, but intend to explore it further. There are but two ways of entering it.

WATER-LOGGED.

The Schooner Republic Sinks in Lake Erie.

LORAIN, Ohio, July 30.—During a heavy gale this morning the schooner Republic, in tow of the steam barge Swallow, coal laden, became water-logged and sank in forty feet of water, two miles off this port. The tug Cascade, of this port, succeeded in rescuing all of the crew of eight men, who were clinging to the rigging. The schooner and her cargo will probably be a total loss. She is owned by E Ewing, of St. Clair, Mich.

CHICAGO, July 30.—Judge John D. Caton, ex justice of the Illinois supreme court, died today, aged eighty-four. He has been long ill, having suffered several severe strokes of paralysis. Judge Caton was one of the oldest citizens of Illinois. He came to Chicago in the thirties, before it was a city. He established the first telegraph line in the state.

CORBETT-FITZSIMMONS

Hunting for a Place Where They Can Fight.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 30.—A private telegram was received here this morning from one of the officers of the Florida Athletic club inquiring as to the feasibility of pulling off the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight in Mexico, just across the border from Laredo or Eagle Pass, Texas. The club desired to know what facilities, in the manner of transportation, could be afforded by railroads leading to the border. The latter question was immediately taken up by telegram with the railroads and it is believed a satisfactory guarantee as to rates and transportation facilities will be given by the passenger departments of the roads concerned. It is believed that the outspoken attitude of Governor Culberson towards the proposed pugilistic carnival precludes all possibility of its taking place at any time in Texas.

MUST LIVE UP TO IT.

Saloonkeeper Imprisoned for Violating the Nicholson Law.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 30.—The residents of Mount Jackson, a suburb of this city, are fighting the roadhouses under the Nicholson law, and Jerry Gates was tried by a jury for selling intoxicants on a holiday. He was found guilty and fined $25 and costs with ten days in the workhouse. The verdict fell like a thunder clap on the defendant, as well as the saloonkeepers who are awaiting trial. It is the first time for years a workhouse penalty has been imposed in a liquor case. Gates gave notice of an appeal, but he was committed, as there is no evading the penalty of imprisonment while the appeal is pending.

TELEGRAPH POLES CUT DOWN.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 30.—A gang of men, under direction of City Electrician Hoag, were at work chopping down telegraph and telephone poles in the principal business streets yesterday, regardless of whether the wires had first been removed. The city authorities have for years been endeavoring to compel the various electrical corporations to put their wires under ground, but the pole-cutting stage has never been reduced until the present. The telegraph and telephone companies are now preparing to put their wires underground as soon as possible.

IN A STATE OF ANARCHY.

The Republic of Salvador on the Verge of Dissolution.

Murders Committed in Public With Impunity and the Police Turn to be Assassins and Thieves.

CITY OF MEXICO, July 30—Private advices from the republic of Salvador state that the country is on the verge of anarchy, and there is no longer any pretense at defending property. Murders are committed with impunity, and recently the police assassinated a reputable citizen of the capital city. President Gutierrez is unequal to his position and his cabinet is made up of heterogenious elements, including Catholics, rampant atheists, agnostics, free masons, liberals and conservatives, who issue directions, while Gutierrez looks helplessly on. The cabinet has been ironically nicknamed the "Hodge Podge" cabinet. The police are searching for Francisco Bachez, who recently ran amuck through the streets of the capital shooting right and left and killing instantly a worthy citizen. Not finding Bachez in his home, the police wantonly killed his brother with great cruelty.

Residence of Col. R. S. Robertson Burglarized.

Quite a Sum of Money Taken From a Pocketbook—The Job Was Cleverly Executed.

A professional burglar last night entered the residence of Col. R. S. Robertson, corner of Broadway and West Berry street, and secured quite a sum of money from the colonel's pocketbook.

The robbery was evidently carefully planned and was skillfully executed. It is thought the burglar secreted himself in the residence, possibly in the parlor, early in the evening, and after the family had retired for the night took his own time in looking for valuables.

As is there custom almost every evening during warm weather, Colonel and Mrs. Robertson last evening sat on the porch, the colonel going into the house to read when it became dark and his wife remaining seated outside.

Shortly after 10 o'clock they retired, leaving the front door opened for Miss Mabel, thinking that she would return every moment, and leaving her to lock the door. The screen was left closed, and, as many people pass by this corner, it was not supposed any one would have courage to enter.

Shortly after 11 o'clock Miss Mabel and her escort returned. She requested her friend to remain until the house had been securely locked, for some reason feeling a presentiment that something was not right. The last thing she did when her friend left was to turn the night latch in the front door.

During the night Colonel Robertson was awakened two or three times but attributed his restlessness to the wind. This morning when he wakened and glanced at his clothing, which he left on a chair close beside the bed, he at once exclaimed that he had been robbed. He noticed that his garments were not as he had left them. He felt for his watch and was surprised to find it in its usual place. His wallet in his coat pocket was also undisturbed. However, when he reached for his pocketbook in his trousers he found it missing.

Nothing else was taken upstairs, but from a secretary drawer in the library Mrs. Robertson's gold ring was found missing and some small change taken from Miss Mabel's pocketbook. Curious as it may seem, a small but sagacious dog was in the house and never made a sound. The colonel's pocketbook was found in the parlor and beside it a burnt match. What makes it very evident that the man was a professional is the fact that nothing which would lead to his identification was taken, even some small coins of an early date being left in the pocketbook. The burglar might have helped himself to other articles of value, but was evidently only after cash. The front door was found unlocked this morning, showing how the man had left the house.

Colonel Robertson had been paid quite a sum of money Saturday evening, too late for banking, and neglected to deposit it yesterday, expecting to use it for a special purpose today. This is the third time he has been robbed; the last time being relieved at his hotel in Salt Lake City.

AUGUST WEATHER.

Professor Hicks Tells What it is Going to Be.

Professor Hicks predicts as follows for the month of August: From Aubust 1 to 8 will be a storm period of greater or less violence, with hot and increasing temperature, till the reactionary period of the 9th. The following days, to the 13th, will be much cooler, changing to the next regular storm period. It is promised at this time that there will be a diminished rain fall, although the cloudburst tendency of the season may develop in spots. There will be a moon eclipse of the sun on the 20th and besides the moon will be at its perigree, thus producing very dangerous storm conditions, accompanied by earthquakes in various parts of the globe. The month closes with another storm period with violent downpouring of rain about the 26th.

PROF. WM. MILES.

Success of the Cantata Given at Winona Assembly.

The people from this city who heard the cantata "Under the Palms," given at Winona assembly last Friday and Saturday, under the direction of Prof. Wm. Miles, of this city, say that its rendition reflected great credit upon the professor, as it was produced in the finest manner.

Especially admirable was the way in which he drilled the children for the difficult choruses, and his work was admired by all who had the pleasure of attending the concerts. Professor Miles is thoroughly at home in teaching children and his work in that line places him foremost among the successful music directors of America.

The Creation will be given at Winona August 14, when a large chorus from Warsaw, augmented by many Fort Wayne singers, will participate. Success is assured for this beautiful oratorio.

THE TIMES-POST.

The New Afternoon Paper in a Bad Financial Way.

Unless the Times-Post, the new afternoon paper which has been conducted for several weeks by Gart Shober, of this city, and C. H. Bliss, of Auburn, is sold to other parties its publication will soon cease, as it has been a losing financial venture ever since it was started.

Yesterday Major L. A. Centlivre, the young brewer, took possession of the newspaper property on second mortgage claims aggregating $1,700, and besides this there is a first mortgage of $600 inherited from the Monday Morning Times representing indorsements for Mr. Shober by W. H. Shambaugh, J. M. Barrett, ex-Mayor Sherer and others.

The paper will be offered at private sale in the office of Hanna Bros., next Monday, August 5. The newspaper plant has been taken possession of by R. B. Hanna, acting attorney for Mr. Centlivre.

It is understood the paper will continue publication with Messrs. C. L. Drummond and Harry M. Williams at the head of the editorial staff, until the time of sale.

JACK CASE ARRESTED.

He Was Armed With a Heavy Lead Slug Shot.

Two Wild Young Girls on Trial at Police Court Before Mayor Oakley This Morning.

Jack Case, a well-known Fort Wayne individual, was arrested this morning at the corner of Ewing and Wayne streets, by Officer Albert Foulks, charged with carrying concealed weapons. Case has been arrested a good many times previously, but the last time he said would be the last. He therefore procured a heavy lead slug-shot and made his brags that the next policeman who tackled him would be laid out. This morning Mr. Case was held up by the officer and very peaceably submitted to being searched. On his person was found the weapon and he was therefore sent to the station house in the patrol and locked up.

POLICE COURT.

Two unfortunate young women, Jennie Boyles and Cora Clark, were on trial this morning before Mayor Oakley charged with drunkenness. The girls were arrested about 2 o'clock last night by Officer Coling, on the corner of Columbia and Barr streets. Both girls have served terms in jail before. They were very saucy and guyed Officer Coling during the trial, much to the merriment of the spectators at court. The girls were sent to jail for nineteen days in default of $5 and costs.

Miner Miller was arrested yesterday afternoon on Broadway by Officer Patton. The man had been indulging in a family quarrel and was intoxicated. He paid out.

Frank Zipp was arrested on Wells street last evening by Officer Sommers and locked up on a charge of drunk. He went to jail for eleven days.

CRUSHED BETWEEN CARS

Sad Accident to Jesse W. France Last Evening.

He Refuses to Allow the Physician to Amputate His Limb and is Quite Low at the Hospital.

Jesse W. France, an extra conductor on the street railway is lying seriously injured at the St. Joseph hospital. France was detailed to take charge of an excursion car last night, and at the completion of the trip ran his car, No. 61, of the Hanna street line, to the barn, on Railroad street, he jumped to the ground for the purpose of reversing the trlley, and started around the car, which, at that moment, was standing at the intersection of the two tracks, with one end on the main track. Just as France started to walk around his car, holding the trolley rope, Main street car No. 39, Motorman Jarrett in charge, came slowly down the main track and bumped up against France's car, catching the young man between the two cars. Jarrett at once applied the brakes and the injured man was taken to Detzer's drug store suffering internally. Later he was removed to the hospital, where he was attended by Dr. Myers. An examination of his injuries disclosed a compound fracture of the bones of the left thigh and severe bruises about the upper parts of the limbs and also about the body. The pains in the region of the abdomen were so intense as to lead to the belief that there were internal injuries. After having his wounds dressed the patient rested easier, but this morning he was very weak from loss of blood. The doctor advised amputation of the limb, but the patient would not consent.

Two years ago the young man accidentally shot and killed Henry Marthena at the latter's home, on Fairfield avenue.

He is a son of Abraham France, of Aboite township, and had only returned to work yesterday after a week's vacation, attending the encampment of the state troops at Indianapolis.

HERMIT DYING.

Assaulted for the Purpose of Robbery.

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio, July 30.—James O'Brien, aged seventy, a hermit living in the wilds of Mount Logan, was found last evening in an unconscious state near his yard with his head beaten to a jelly, and his body showing the marks of many kicks. He regained consciousness long enough to accuse Jim Seamour of the assault for robbery. O'Brien is dying. Seamour escaped.

PORT HURON, Mich., July 30.—The three masted schooner, Samuel J. Tilden, bound up with coal, sprang a leak five miles north of here this morning and was run ashore. The tug Thompson has gone to her assistance. The wind is blowing a gale from the north.

HER ENTRANCE

—into society, and womanhood as well, is an extremely critical period in every girl's life. At this time she needs advice, and, what's more—help of the right sort. If she puts her faith in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription it can bring only good results. It's a medicine that's made especially to build up women's strength and cure women's ailments—an invigorating, restorative tonic, soothing cordial, and bracing nervine; purely vegetable, non-alcoholic, and perfectly harmless. For all the functional derangements, painful disorders, and chronic weaknesses that afflict womankind, the "Favorite Prescription" is specific.

TERRIBLE PAIN AND FAINTING SPELLS.

Mechanicsburgh, Cumberland Co., Pa.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—When I commenced taking your medicine I was very sickly. I had frequent spells of fainting, terrible pain in my head, and life was a burden to me. I was attended by one of the best physicians in our town, but with no good results. At last a neighbor advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which I did, and after taking one bottle I felt greatly benefited. I would advise all ladies similarly afflicted to try "Favorite Prescription."

Yours truly,
MRS. SAMUEL A. JACOBS.

POLICY shop gambling in this city ought to be wiped out root and branch.

THE Decatur Journal, of this state, is booming Major McKinley, of Ohio, for president.

FORT WAYNE has about one a day now—sometimes two. We mean divorce suits.

THE toll roads of the county will be purchased when the prices get around to what they ought to be.

THE municipal officers of other cities in the state are suppressing the pernicious newspapers. Why do not the officials of Fort Wayne do so?

THE Horr-Harvey debate is now a thing of the past and it did not prove the great educator on the silver question that it was expected it would be.

THE single-taxers have begun a novel campaign in Delaware. They have sent a kind of Salvation army delegation into the state. The speakers wear uniforms, and use the army's peculiar methods to draw crowds.

A MAN over in Ohio, the other day, wrote to Governor Matthews to induce him to suppress racing and gambling in that state. This shows that the people have great faith in the ability of our governor to put down lawlessness.

JOHN I. BLAIR, the New Jersey railroad king, who has over $25,000,000 invested in western railroads, boasts that he has never bought a road merely for speculation and that none of his money has been made by bulling or bearing stocks.

REPORTS as to the political situation in Pennsylvania make it plain that Senator Quay has at last overreached himself, and that he is no longer a power, or even an influence, in Pennsylvania politics. The election of delegates to the state convention resulted very generally in the defeat of Quay candidates.

THE Times-Post, the new afternoon paper of this city, has proven a losing financial venture and unless it is sold to a new company its publication will soon cease. The experiment of publishing more than two afternoon English papers in this city has failed before and it will fail now. There is not room in Fort Wayne for more than two.

THE government bond syndicate has deposited $2,000,000 in gold with the sub-treasury, which makes good the amount withdrawn for shipment to Europe and other purposes during the current month. The gold was turned in last Friday in exchange for legal tender notes. It brings the gold balance up to the highest point reached since the syndicate completed payment for its bonds. The gold reserve now is $107,321 676.

GEN. REUB WILLIAMS, of the Warsaw Times, is shedding tears because the young ladies of that town, who have taken to the bicycle, will persist in riding with a hump. The Times is calling upon the ladies to raise the handlebars and sit straight. "The day is not so far distant," it mournfully observes, "when you will bend over as a matter of inability to avoid."

THESE are dog days which we are passing through just now. Dog days are an invention of the calendar merely as a specification of certain astronomical relations of Sirius, a season in which sultry and humid weather is apt to prevail. But it appears on the records that dogs take to rabies just as much in January as in July, and they also take to people all the year through who fail to let them alone.

THE result of the elections in Great Britain show the election of 338 conservatives, 72 unionists, 176 liberals, 69 anti Parnellites and 12 Parnellites. Thus the conservatives, liberal-unionist majority, subject to the results in the three districts yet to be heard from will be 153. The conservative majority over any coalition that can be made will be nine. The unionists have gained 110 seats and the liberals 20.

Put a Tax on the Poles.

When the city council reconvenes after its summer recess an ordinance will be introduced to levy a tax of $1 on every pole erected along our streets for telephone, telegraph, electric lighting and street car purposes. There are over 5,000 poles standing along our streets and such a tax would consequently bring into the city treasury each year just that many dollars which would be a neat sum towards paying the expenses of the city. It is probable that the passage of such an ordinance would result in the cutting down of many of the poles now standing by the companies using them and it might also lead to the placing of the wires under ground. In either case the ordinance would be a good one and it ought to be introduced and passed as the poles, with the net work of overhead wires, have become a regular nuisance and a menance to life and property in case of fire. Other cities are doing away with overhead wires and Fort Wayne ought to do so.

The Hope of the Nation.

The hopes of the country just now rest on the corn crop. Several minor things are going to happen, but there is going to be a great corn crop, and then all will be well with the United States of America.

There is something singular in the fact that, as the magnetic needle, turn the compass as you may, reverts to the north, so the confidence of the United States always turns toward the corn crop. Last year we were talking about wheat as a substitute for corn in feeding hogs, and publishing tables to show that wheat was just as good as corn and perhaps a little better. We could get along without corn if we had wheat, couldn't we? Well, we are not talking about all that this year. The comparative tables are laid aside. We do not care how many pounds of cracked wheat will make a pound of pork. Corn is in sight now, and when that is the case there is nothing like corn.

Corn is American; corn is our own. Corn is the triumph and the test. Corn is the greatest gift the continent has ever bestowed upon the world. Corn settles the question of the value of any American locality as an agricultural section. The state or country, hill or valley, that "makes corn" is the best, is A1, and everything else is graded after. The land may raise cane, cotton, wheat, rye, grass—what you will; but it is the corn ground that draws the first number.

This season has such a promise of corn as has not been known in years before. That means that this land of the brave and home of the free will do to bet on. If any man has any money to invest in the United States, now is his time; he may now buy land or beeves, farms or city lots. The sign of the time is the big, fourteen-foot cornstalk, with ears to match. That sign has never failed us yet.

The three ablest men in Europe are Gladstone, Bismarck and Pope Leo. The best baking powder here or abroad is Dr. Price's.

The Paradise of Women.

It is not anywhere in civilization, not even in America, according to Mr. H. Fielding, a writer in Blackwood. It is in heathen Burma. There woman is on absolutely the same footing as man in all that pertains to law and custom. There is not a single law that does not bear equally on man the same as on women. Men have never tried to "boss" them or to say what was fitting and what was not fitting for them. "No artificial ideals from long past ages have been held up to them as eternal copies. It has been left to their own good sense and to the eternal fitness of things to determine what is womanly and what is not." The result is, says Mr. Fielding, none is more womanly than the Burmese woman, "none possesses in greater strength all the nameless attractions of a woman."

In the higher classes a woman has property of her own and manages it herself. In the lower classes she always has a trade and runs it herself. The sexes are left to choose their own occupations, and "it is rather curious to find that sewing and embroidery are distinctively male occupations."

The retail trade of the country is in the hands of the women, and they nearly all trade on their own account. Just as the men farm their own land, the women own their businesses. They are not saleswomen for others, but traders on their own account, and, with the exception of the silk and cloth branches of the trade, it does not interfere with home life. The bazaar lasts but three hours, and the woman has ample time for her home duties when her daily visit to the bazaar is over. She is never kept away all day in shops and factories. Her home life is always the center of her life. She could not neglect it for any other. It would seem to her a losing of the greater in the less. But the effect of this custom of nearly every woman having a little business of her own has a great influence on her life. It broadens her views. It teaches her things she could not learn in the narrow circle of home duties. It gives her that tolerance and understanding which so forcibly strike every one who knows her. It teaches her to know her own strength and weakness and how to make the best of each.

Changes In the British Ministry.

When a British cabinet resigns and the queen invites the head of the opposite political party to form a new cabinet, it is the same as if in America the governmental policy should suddenly change from Democratic to Republican or vice versa. The British are accustomed to hold up their government to Americans as being much more stable than ours. It runs along firmly and smoothly without the convulsions of such frequent general elections, they say.

The truth is that the real government of England changes much more often than that of the United States does, though the British do not make so much fuss over the matter as we do. In the past 50 years the United States has had 13 presidential elections. These have, however, involved a radical change of policy from Democrat to Whig and from Republican to Democrat or otherwise only seven times in the years since 1844. Going back half a century in British politics, we find the Liberals have been in power six times. The Conservatives have been in power, counting the ministry just formed, seven different times. Against our seven changes of government policy therefore the British, with their so called stable government, count up 13.

When an American president, as sometimes happens, finds himself by a congressional election in the middle of his term stranded high and dry without any congress at his back, he can only rub along the best he can till his term of office expires. If he were the so called sovereign of England, no matter what his political views were, when his cabinet found that congress would not pass the bills the administration desired, he would be obliged to accept the resignation of his secretaries and form a cabinet of those who held opposing political views. It will thus be seen that the queen of England has less political power than our president.

In one respect the queen of England has, however, more power than the president. When parliament will no longer respond to the British cabinet by voting in accordance with its views, the prime minister may advise the queen to dissolve the parliament and order a new election, which she does accordingly. This the American president cannot do, although he undoubtedly wishes he could sometimes.

When Spain suppresses the Cuban rebellion, if she ever does, she will find herself with a war debt of not less than $200,000,000 on her hands and no means of paying it except to squeeze it out of the impoverished, unhappy island she has once more prostrated. Cubans undoubtedly wish now that their beautiful island had rebelled against Spain and declared its independence in 1810, when the other Spanish-American provinces did so. But Cuba remained loyal to Spain through all the years from 1810 to 1822 and prided herself on it. The Spaniards called her in consequence the "Ever Faithful Isle." As a reward for her fidelity, however, Spain began a systematic course of taxation which almost sapped the very lifeblood of Cuba. This oppression and injustice are what keeps Cuba in a state of chronic disturbance, which will never be quieted permanently until either the island is free or Spain relaxes her iron grip and governs justly.

The Irish representatives in the British parliament have themselves to thank for the overthrow of the Liberal government and the accession to power of the Conservatives and the Salisbury cabinet. Only for the fatal split into Parnellites and McCarthyites, and the antagonism that could not be stifled in matters even the most vital, the Liberal government would now be in power and home rule in Ireland, if not already actually accomplished, would be very near. It will not do to blame Rosebery's incapacity, lack of person magnetism, etc., to cry aloud, Oh, for one hour of Gladstone! If the home rule party in Ireland is so fractious and inharmonious that it requires a one man power to hold it together, then Ireland is not yet ready for freedom. If the men who took their lives in their hands and started the American Revolution had split into two opposing factions, this country would still be a colony of Great Britain.

Salisbury seems to be trying to make up for the weakness of his support in the house of commons by adding a large number of supporters to his governmental staff. It now contains 19 members, the largest number ever in a British cabinet. If President Cleveland had to wrestle with that many different sets of American opinions in his cabinet, he might indeed despair. It would be worse than when he had "congress on his hands."

A very useful invention has been perfected by a Brooklyn man. He has devised a piano that can be taken apart, moved in sections, carried up any stairway, however small, and put together again in a little room. This will be a boon to dwellers in city flats. The spectacle of a piano swinging in midair before the gaze of a crowd of admiring spectators and being hoisted in at a fourth or fifth story window because the staircase is too narrow to take it up that way has long been a common one. The piano that can be moved in sections will abate much hard work and more hard language on the part of those victims of American unrest, the "move men."

THE WINGED STEED.

The Great L. A. W. Meet Now Near at Hand.

Runs to the Country Given Up for Sport Nearer Home—The Crack Riders Will All be Here.

Dear bloomer girl, though dressed you be
  In masculine severity,
The sly old world you can't deceive,
E'en though at times she makes believe
  To listen to your monody.

Why, one with half an eye can see,
  Despite your mannish dignity,
Your heart's the same to love and grieve,
    Dear bloomer girl.

And though you cry "equality,"
  And shock conventionality,
Beneath your fads, we all perceive,
You're just like good "old" Mother Eve,
  As simple feminine as she,
    Dear bloomer girl.

BICYCLE BRIEFS.

Miss Theodosia Purman is a new and enthusiastic rider.

George L. Byers went to Berne, Ind., on his wheel yesterday.

Captain Gouty expects to call a century run to Bryan, Ohio, and return, before long.

The cycling club has about abandoned the idea of the erection a club house at Lake Everett.

Mrs. Dr. J. D. Coyle is the owner of a new Smalley wheel. The craze still continues among the dentists.

There were fully 150 bicycle riders at Lake Everett Sunday. The roads over from this city are very good the entire distance.

Clifford G. Morganthaler has resumed his position with Rouse, Hazzard & Co., Peoria, Ill., after spending two weeks' vacation in this city.

Jessie Robinson, an Indianapolis maiden of twenty, expects to ride from Chicago to the City of Mexico alone, leaving about August 10.

Stager & Gouty will soon have a new wheel on the market known as the "White Flyer." It is the same as that ridden by John S. Johnson.

Workmen began yesterday to put the track at Centlivre's park in proper condition for the great race meet. It will be a "fast one" when they finish.

The L. A. W. meet association will give a grand smoker at the club house on next Monday evening in honor of their guests. A royal time is promised.

A. L. Randall last week purchased fifteen new Plymouth roadsters, which he put on the market at $65. On Saturday he sold nine of these wheels.

Some improvements are being made at the Cycling club house. Next week a 117 gallon hot water boiler will be put in for the bath tubs and the shower room.

The four teams which will be here August 5 include the Monarch, of Chicago; Cleveland, of Cleveland; Columbia, of Boston, and Spaulding, of Chicago.

The next bicycle meeting of the Fort Wayne club will be held on Monday, August 12, next Monday's meeting being postponed on account of the race meet, as the club house will be used for other purposes.

Julius Siemon, John Walfrom and Berne White went to Everett lake Sunday. While Siemon was out boat riding someone borrowed his bike and rode across a stubble field, puncturing the front wheel twice and also the rear tire.

Morgan & Co. have just received a shipment of the new Twentieth Century bicycle lamps. The lamp can be taken from the wheel and used to carry on dark nights by means of a swinging handle. It burns coal oil and gives a splendid light.

Gen. Lew Wallace says that the future of the bicycle depends on the women riders. "If the use of wheels were confined to men," he says, "the fad might spend itself in a season. But when the women take hold of the bicycle its future is secure."

The Pope Manufacturing company, through their agents, Morgan & Co., have presented the Fort Wayne Cycling club with a handsome group pictures of McDonald, Bald and Sims, their racing team, who will be seen here at the races August 5.

C. Cherry, of this city, last week rode clear across the state on his wheel. When he reached the Illinois state line he turned about and started for home. Cherry says there were some awful stretches of sand road as he reached the state line. He enjoyed the trip, nevertheless.

Henry Taylor, Harry Pickard, Tony Arnold, Costa Shelton, Manney Rosenthal and Will Gouty, of the Fort Wayne Cycling club, made a club run to Decatur Sunday. They announced their coming by a telephone message sent down the day before. They took dinner at the Burt house.

There will be a very short run over town by the Cycling club next Sunday with the visiting guests, many of whom will arrive Saturday night to spend Sunday here. There will be a social all day at the club house and this will be continued through the evening. The club will keep open house.

Lee Castle, of Celina, O., rode to this city on his wheel Sunday and made very good time, considering the distance of about sixty-six miles. Mr. Castle left home at 3:30 a. m. and arrived here at 7:30. He remained over night the guest of friends and left on his wheel yesterday noon for home.

B. F. Leeser, a prominent hardware dealer of Albion, accompanied by Druggist H. D. Stone, of the same place, were in the city over Sunday on their wheels, the guests of Dick at the Randall. They state that a party of fifty wheelmen will come on their bikes from Avilla and Albion on Sunday to witness the races here.

Peltier has received his new Smalley racer. Its weight is seventeen pounds and it is a very handsome wheel. It has a rear fork of his own design, which gives the wheel a very narrow tread. Peltier is very proud of the new bike and the third time he rode it made a half mile in 1:02 1 5. Considering the fact that the track was not in the best condition, this is looked upon as remarkably fast time.

The following are the latest entries for the big meet, as shown by Secretary Steger's books: F. V. Rigby, Toledo, member of Cleveland racing team; T. R. Eddy, Columbus, O.; Harry Stonehill, Paulding, O.; Wm. Amiss, Huntington; Clark Brown, Butler, Ind.; Louis W. Haines, Richmond, Ind.; Rossier D. Oilar, Chicago, Ill.; F. T. Lytle, Logansport, Ind.; F. G. Barnett, Cleveland; Will Colerick, Fort Wayne.

The tightness or looseness of the chain is one of those things that novices and frequently those who should have long got past that stage, pay absolutely no attention to. They struggle along with their chains dead tight, as generally received from the makers, and allow them gradually, or quickly, according to quality and amount of use, to get first comfortably loose, then to the rattling, and finally to the dangerous stage, when a fall, from the chain mounting the cogs and running off, when going down a steep hill draws forcible attention to the state of affairs. The correct adjustment of the chain is second to nothing in importance as far as easy running is concerned, not to mention the wear and tear of the machine. Every chain should have a little play; in the case of a covered-in chain, very slight; with a naked chain, rather more, to allow of the tightening influences of the mud and dust picked up.

Changes In the Grain Trade.

Wheat in the Chicago market fell from an average of $1.11½ a bushel in 1892 to 49 cents in January, 1895. This was of course largely due to the opening of the great wheatfields in the northwest. In The North American Review Mr. Egerton R. Williams calls attention to the fact that however much wheat is consumed at home it is the price in foreign markets that inevitably decides the price at home. "The surplus of exporting countries must always determine home values." England, the greatest consumer, fixes the price of American wheat and cotton and even of American railway stocks. That is because she has so much ready money. The ocean telegraph brought nearer together the importers of breadstuffs and their exporters. This had the effect to let all the world know where there was a scarcity and where a glut of wheat. One result was that the time honored custom of selling and buying grain and flour through commission merchants is now almost obsolete.

"In the latter part of the sixties" a system was quietly inaugurated which revolutionized the whole system of buying and selling grain. That was dealing in "futures"—buying and selling grain not in hand for future delivery. This used to be thought very wicked indeed. It is now recognized as a perfectly honest and legitimate transaction and has become the steady practice. Only for it, Mr. Williams declares that the disastrous effects of the crash of 1893 would have been much greater.

The collector of customs at San Francisco does ill to make that row against the admission of Zante currants free from duty. He will win the enmity of all the boarding house keepers in this land of light and liberty. Who does not cherish fond memories of rice pudding with Zante currants in it 365 days in the year? Still in his Eustachian tubes sounds the music of the sand he gritted in his teeth as he chewed those horrid Zante currants. He may have been wedded many years and had for long a snug home of his own where Zante currants, if they are ever used, have always the sand completely washed out of them. Yet still in nightmare dreams will come back at intervals the old grinding of his teeth when in a boarding house he ate rice pudding seasoned with Zante currants.

A VETERAN SCIENTIST'S WORK.

Career of Professor Davidson, the "Man Who Talked With the Stars."

Professor George Davidson, who was recently dismissed from the United States coast and geodetic survey to make a place for a younger man, has spent 50 years in the government service and is still full of vigor, endurance and energy at the age of 70. He attended Girard college, Philadelphia, in 1845, and then entered the coast survey at a salary of $25 per month, which was raised to $50 per month, with a subsistence allowance of $10 a month when on field work, after four years of service. In 1849, when the gold seekers began pouring into California, Davidson was sent to San Francisco to chart the practically unknown coast for the benefit of mariners at a salary of $800 per annum. In three years he and two assistants charted the entire coast from San Diego to Port Townsend.

In 1868 he was placed in charge of the western division, and his work was of incalculable benefit on land and sea. His influence with James Lick directed the millionaire's thoughts toward the establishment of the great Lick telescope and led the eccentric philanthropist to abandon his pet idea of building a monument to himself in the form of a magnificent pyramid rivaling Cheops itself. He has traveled all over the world to observe astronomical phenomena for the United States government, and his report on the resources of Alaska practically led to the purchase in 1867. He connected the west with the east by telegraphic longitude work, served on irrigation commissions in India, China, Egypt, Italy and California, judged the awards in astronomy and geodesy at the Paris exposition, and his rare talents and erudition in his chosen field of labor have caused him to be elected to 32 learned bodies and academies, including the Royal Astronomical society, the American Philosophical society, the National Academy of Sciences, the National and Royal Geographical societies and the Bureau des Longitudes of France.

PROFESSOR GEORGE DAVIDSON.

He had many exciting adventures with Indians along the Pacific coast and in Alaska, and during the Indian war on Puget sound in 1855-6 worked for days in peril of his life until his courage won the admiration of one of the chiefs, who declared that no one should injure the "man who talked with the stars."

Where Is He Going?

Gentle reader, he is hurrying home. And it's house-cleaning time, too—think of that!

Fifteen years ago, he wouldn't have done it. Just at this time, he'd be "taking to the woods."

But now, things are different. His house is cleaned with Pearline. That makes house-cleaning easy.

Easy for those who do it—easy for those who have it done.

No hard work, no wear and tear, no turmoil and confusion, no time wasted, no tired women, no homeless men.

Everything's done smoothly, quickly, quietly, and easily. Try it and see.

Send it Back Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, do the honest thing—send it back. 331 JAMES PYLE, New York.

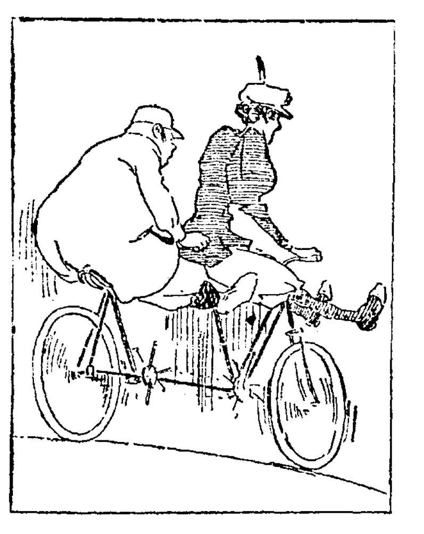
JACK SPRATT'S TANDEM.

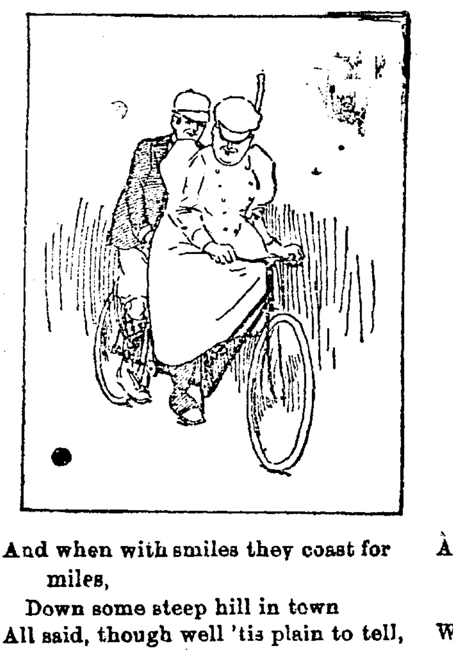
Jack Spratt he grew so fat,
His wife she grew so lean,
O, happy thought, he went and bought
A tandem bike machine.

"Won't that be great, I lose my weight
By sweating on the wheel,
While Mrs. Spratt will gather fat,
Thus both gain by the deal."

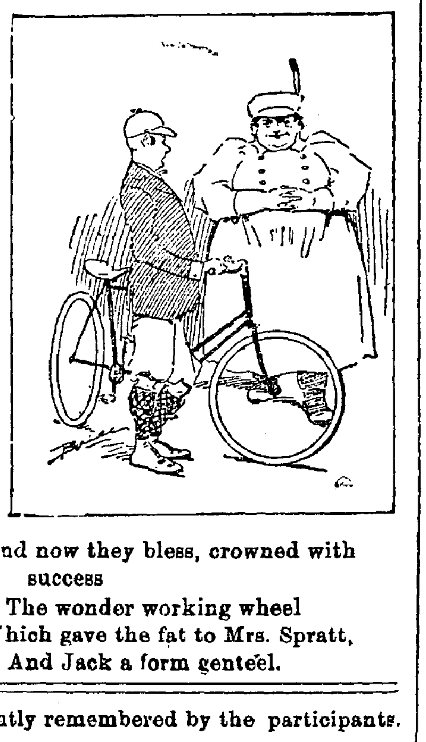


Thus Mrs. Spratt on forward sat
As up each hill they ran,
And smiling said as on they sped,
"Jack is a pushing man."

Day after day they wheeled away
With merry song and shout,
And people cried, 'tho' long they hide,
"At last we find them out."



And when with smiles they coast for miles,
Down some steep hill in town
All said, though well 'tis plain to tell,
"They both are running down."



And now they bless, crowned with success
The wonder working wheel
Which gave the fat to Mrs. Spratt,
And Jack a form genteel.

German Puffs.

One pint flour, 2 tablespoonfuls sugar, pinch of salt, 1½ teaspoonfuls Royal Baking Powder, 3 tablespoonfuls butter, 4 eggs, 2 ounces sweet almonds, 3 drops Extract Bitter Almonds ½ pint cream, ½ cupful sultana raisins, ½ wine-glass rum. Rub butter and sugar to white, light cream; add eggs (whole) 1 at a time, beating three or four minutes between each addition; blanch the almonds. (See receipt for Almond Pudding.) Sift together flour, salt, and powder, which add to butter, etc., with almonds, raisins, extract bitter almonds, cream and rum. Mix whole together into smooth batter as for pound cake; ⅔ fill well greased cups; bake in fairly hot oven 20 minutes; at end of that time insert straw gently. If it comes out clean they are ready; if any of uncooked batter adheres to straw, must be set carefully back few minutes longer.

Sweet Potato Buns.

Three large sweet potatoes, 1½ pints flour, pinch salt, 1½ teaspoonfuls Royal Baking Powder, 1 pint cream. Boil potatoes tender, rub them very fine with cream. Sift together flour, salt, and powder; add to potato preparation; mix into rather firm, smooth dough; form into round pieces size of small egg; lay on greased tin; bake in hot oven 20 minutes.

Breakfast Biscuit.

Take 1 quart sweet milk, ½ cupful melted butter, a little salt, 2 tablespoonfuls Royal Baking Powder, flour enough to make a stiff batter; do not knead into dough, but drop into buttered tins from a spoon; bake in a hot oven—unless it is hot they will not be light and tender.

The Ohio State Food Commission's official test showed Royal Baking Powder absolutely pure. No other baking powder tested contained less than 10% of impurities, which impurities were mostly alum.

SEASHORE EXCURSION.

The Pennsylvania Company Decides to Run One.

The Nickel Plate Puts on Two More Gravel Trains—The Wabash's New Hospital Site.

Fort Wayne citizens and those of the neighboring towns are about to have an opportunity to visit the Atlantic resorts at a cost far below the regular rates. On the 8th of August the Pennsylvania company will run an excursion from this city to Atlantic City, tickets for the round trip being placed at $15 and good returning until the 18th. The special train for this occasion will leave here at 5:40, a. m reach Philadelphia at 6:25 the following morning and Atlantic City at 9.50 o'clock. It will go by way of the famous Horse Shoe curve route the most picturesque of the Allegheny mountain lines. This excursion is the first one to the seashore ever attempted in this city, and future affairs of the kind will depend upon the success of this one. Agent John E. Ross is now billing it and "feeling the pulse," as it were, of the public. It is too early to make any predictions regarding the results of Mr. Ross' labors, but THE SENTINEL sincerely hopes he may meet the success his worthy enterprise is entitled to.

REV. GREEN GIVES A RECEPTION.

Rev. John H. Green, janitor at the electric works, and Miss Eliza Kinchlow, of Van Wert, were married in that city last Sunday and are now keeping house at No. 37 Grand street. Last night the bride and groom gave a banquet in honor of their friends and nearly all of the participants were employes of the electric works. Rev. Green called to his assistance John Dalton, and to that gentleman's efforts is due much of the credit for the success of the affair. W. J. Wheeler, of the Pittsburg tin shop, and J. F. Magers, of the machine department, members of the True Blues, are working again after camping a week at Indianapolis.

George Hilgeman, an employe of the electric works, had his right arm painfully cut in some machinery last night. The bones were not broken and no permanent injury will result.

The shipments today from the electric works were an eighty-light Wood arc machine to Mt. Pleasant Pa., and material for a 400-light plant, incandescent system, to Salem, Ohio.

A piece of steel flew out from beneath a hammer yesterday and embedded itself in the arm of William Kruger, an employe of the Pittsburg shops. Dr. George C. Stemen found that the metal had not severed an artery and concluded that the operation of removing it would only inflict useless pain, so the piece will remain in the man's arm. Mr. Kruger will, it is expected, be able to resume work in a few days.

The Wabash Plaindealer says: "Sunday Mrs. John Curry, accompanied the Wabash Toledo excursion as far as Napoleon, Ohio, where she stopped off to visit friends. Returning the first section did not stop at Napoleon, and Mrs. Curry took the second section. On arriving at Fort Wayne she was informed that her train did not go farther west than Fort Wayne. Mrs Curry explained matters to the Wabash officials at Fort Wayne and an engine and one coach were sent to Wabash to bring her home, she arriving here at 3 o'clock. It isn't often that a special is run for a single passenger."

The Lutheran church at Bingen, Ind., a little town twelve miles south of this city, on the Grand Rapids road, will be fifty years old next Sunday. Great preparations for the proper observance of the semi-centennial are now under way. Pastor Hugo has written to all the surviving former pastors of that church, inviting them to be present on that occasion. He has also issued invitations to Lutheran pastors and congregations in this city to participate in the celebrations and the prospects for the largest gathering ever known in that section of the country is exceedingly good. There is some talk of running an excursion out from this city if satisfactory arrangements can be made with the railway company. It is a little late, however, for such arrangements and those who attend the celebration will probably have to drive out to Bingen.

ROOTS - ROOTS.

THEY APPEAL TO EVERY HOUSEKEEPER.

We thought when we opened the big Carpet sale of a few days since, we could at the prices sell a good many yards, and make business where it is usually dull in July, but we did not know we were going to do such a rushing business as has been done. It's a Carpet sale without a precedent—beyond possible imitation. We are going to sell some carpets along these lines this week that will enable you to furnish a room or two at less prices than has ever been known.

MOQUETTE CARPETS—elegant patterns; Carpets that we are not going to ask $1.00 and $1.20 a yard, as we could easily do for the qualities, But 75c.

BODY BRUSSELS—Bring them down to the price of a choice Ingrain—and we're not going to ask you $1.20 a yd., which is the value, but 88c.

TAPESTRY BRUSSELS—You can easily see how much better than an Ingrain these are in wear and looks, and the price will not be 50c nor 60 either, But 38c.

These three lines are so good we stand them out in our Carpet room open for inspection and comparison.

STOCKINGS.

Russets seem to be the rage—all want a pair or two, Ladies and Children.

Three lines of Children's Russet Stockings, all seamless and bearing that imprint ONYX—12½, 15 and 18c

Ladies' Russets—seamless, in three or four different shades, at 12½c a pair.

FOR BOYS.

We have an extra good thing for a pair of pants or a suit—a clean Titton wool mixed Tweed at 40c, better than any yet shown. Mothers will do well to look these over.

OUTING FLANNELS.

We are now selling lots of these—Outing Flannels at 5c a yard can be seen all over, but no such quality nor no such patterns as these in this lot o' ours at 5c, they can be found in the 7 and 8c kinds. Ours 5c.

CHILDREN'S WAISTS

For wee folks and up to 12 & 14 years

Fern's Waists from 5 years up to 14, single and double waists, 25, 50 and 75c.

Double V waists 2 years up to Misses, 50c.

Balls' waists, 75c.

Jersey ribbed waists with these, no vests needed, 3 years up to 12, 35c.

HOT WEATHER STUFF—6¼c.

The hot weather washable stuffs now here—we mark down to such a low figure as to make them fairly snap and bound out. We make them at a price that will bring the public here this week as they did last, by the thousands.

There are Iridescent cloths, white & colored ground Pongees, Llama cloths, Organdies, Lawns, Dimities, all choice printed designs, made to sell 10c, 12½c and 15c, Your choice 6 1-4 Cents.

NEW BLACK GOODS

Seems a little early to you, perhaps, but it's not. The black dress is an all the year around dress, and now's its season. If you would know what the newest weaves are, stop by the Black Goods counter.

HERE'S ANOTHER ONE!

Edith Miller Asks for a Divorce From Wm. Miller.

Elizabeth Noble and Catherine Larrimore Granted Divorces From Their Husbands by the Court.

The mercury of the thermometer would have to be up above the 100° mark or below the zero point if, in this time of divorce epidemics, a single day should pass without the records of the courts showing either an application for a divorce or the granting of one. Not having reached either of these limits, but standing at 75° in the shade at 2 o'clock, the newspaper reporters, therefore, looked for a divorce case today, and it came when, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, T. W. Wilson, the attorney, walked into the office of the county clerk and handed to Frank Beloit, the clerk of the circuit court, a petition for a divorce, the plaintiff being Edith Miller and the defendant William M. Miller. The complaint stated that the parties had been married a year ago last May, had one child and that the defendant was addicted to the intemperate use of intoxicating liquor and was cruel and inhuman to his wife. For these reasons the plaintiff asked for a divorce.

COURT NOTES.

In the superior court a divorce was granted to Elizabeth H. Noble from William H. Noble. Catherine Larrimore was also granted a divorce from Levi Larrimore. The causes for divorce in both of these cases have already been given in THE SENTINEL.

The will of Henry Spitler has been filed with the county clerk. He bequeaths his property to his wife.

The funeral of the late Esquire George Bullard will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from 36 East Fifth street.

NORTH SIDE NOTES.

Jottings From a Sentinel Scribe in That Pretty Suburb.

A twelve-foot sewer is being laid from Cass street to the Lake Shore railroad, thence south to a point near the Wells street bridge, where it will empty into the St. Mary's.

The North Side Baptist mission is in good condition, its Sunday school being conducted by C. R. Jenne, who beside ability, evinces in a marked degree the Christian spirit.

The energetic, young minister of the Trinity M. E church has cleared the congregation of a $400 debt.

Miss Annie Racine proposes to spend several months at Indianapolis in cultivating her voice.

One of our enterprising citizens on Second street has laid a private line for water, the length of the square. Just why the petitions for water pipes on this little street are denied, where First, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth streets have it, is a standing conundrum.

The suburban improvements in the way of building are due to the efforts of C. F. Pfieffer, who a few years ago erected a fine residence just outside the city limits. This part of the city will in a short time compare well with the west side.

HULDAH.

Last evening the Y. P. S. C. E. of Westminster Presbyterian church met for the semi-annual meeting and election of officers. The reports of the different chairman indicated good work for the past six months. The new executive committee consists of the following persons: President, Harry Lansdown; vice president, Hattie Dean; corresponding secretary, Jennie Hatfield; recording secretary, Gertrude Ferguson; treasurer, Bert Evans; pianist, Lillian Mathis; chairman of lookout committee, Emma Wallace; chairman of prayer meeting committee, Minnie Beaver; chairman of social committee, Nellie Markey; chairman of missionary committee, Prue Bowman; chairman of calling committee, Mrs J. L Leeper; chairman of Sunday school committee, Will Kyburz; chairman of temperance and good citizenship committee, Clement Reed; chairman of church committee, Jennie Bowman.

AFFECTED BY CRIME.

REMARKABLE POWERS EXHIBITED BY FRANK POWELL OF WISCONSIN.

His Peculiarly Nervous and Sensitive Temperament—Why He Didn't Buy a House. Couldn't Rest In a Room In Which a Brutal Murder Had Been Committed.

Dr. D. Frank Powell, mayor of La Crosse, Wis., who, under the name of White Beaver, is also head chief of the Winnebago Indians, is possessed of a peculiarly nervous and sensitive temperament. It is not affection, for probably no man living is less affected. Speaking of this when in St. Louis a few days ago, Dr. Powell said to a reporter:

"I have never been able to account for it. Individuals quickly repel or attract me. Sometimes a man with whom I shake hands, and who is apparently a pleasant gentleman, causes me to shudder. I at once become aware that his disposition is antipathetic to and not in harmony with mine. On the other hand, I am strongly drawn toward others. Houses and rooms have an even more remarkable effect on me. You will hardly believe it, but I can never rest anywhere where the former occupants have led a quarreling, bickering life. An indescribable uneasiness comes over me, and I am miserable until I find other quarters.

"An instance of this occurred some years ago in my own town. My wife and myself were thinking of buying an eligible home that became vacant. Fortunately we decided to rent it for awhile before making the purchase. From the first I found the rooms unbearable. There was some influence in the atmosphere that was utterly repugnant to me. After a few days and nights of unrest I said to my wife, 'Why did you never tell me that Mr. and Mrs. —— did not live happily together?'

"My wife then told me the story of the domestic infelicity of the owners of the house, which had been notorious among the ladies of the town, but which had never reached me. Naturally we decided against the investment.

"Some years ago I was at Minneapolis on business. I registered at the best hotel. The proprietor, being an old friend of mine, directed that I be assigned one of the best rooms in the place. It was an elegant apartment, opening out on a balcony, and under ordinary circumstances I should have been greatly pleased with it.

"During the first night, however, I never closed my eyes. In the morning I requested the clerk to give me another room. He seemed surprised and so did the proprietor. 'Why, doctor,' exclaimed the latter, 'you have the nicest room in the hotel! You surely are not in earnest.'

"'I am very much in earnest,' I replied. 'In fact, if this is the only room you can give me, I shall have to go to the other hotel.'

"At his request I accompanied him up stairs to the distasteful chamber. He pointed out its advantages, in which I readily concurred. 'But, colonel,' I added, 'something once happened in this room.' He looked me steadily in the face for a moment, changed color and proceeded to pull the massive bedstead from the wall. Immediately behind the head of the bed was a dark spot. I recognized it at once as blood. The colonel then confessed that this was the very room in which a cruel murder had been committed, the assassin having gained entrance by the balcony and dispatched his victim with a coupling pin. How the blood spot remained after the room had been repapered no one could explain. The landlord had put me there never dreaming that one who had seen so much of wild western life could have scented out the evil associations of the place."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

At Miss Marion's Touch.

Baby Marion Cleveland will probably touch the button that will start the machinery at the opening of the Cotton States and International exposition. An operator in Atlanta will give the signal, and at the other end of the circuit, Gray Gables, 1,000 miles away, a touch of the button will send the current that starts the wheels.

The exposition directors desire that the little maid Marion shall touch the button. If she does not, Mr. or Mrs. Cleveland will. Mr. Cleveland was originally invited to be present at the opening, Sept. 18. He replied that his engagements would allow him to remain but a few hours on that day if he should go, and he arranged to go Oct. 18, which will be president's day.—New York World.

AMERICAN INSULTED.

Germany Heaps Numerous Indignities Upon Glaser.

Arrested and Thrown Into Prison and His Passport, Bearing Gresham's Signature, Dishonored.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 30—William Glaser, an engineer on the Valley railroad and a resident of this city, has just returned from a visit to his old home in Germany. Glaser came to this country nine years ago when a boy, and is a naturalized citizen. While in Reichnau, German, he was arrested and thrown into prison for having failed to serve three years in the army, as required by the German law. The authorities informed him that for the offense he had been fined 200 marks and must serve forty days in jail. His passport, signed by Secretary W. Q. Gresham, was taken from him and numerous other indignities offered. The cell in which he was confined was in a most filthy condition. After much trouble Glaser succeeded in securing a hearing and was finally told that his sentence had been remitted, but that he must not leave Germany until his case had been investigated by a higher court He, however, left the country at the first opportunity. While in jail Mr. Glaser learned that an American citizen was in an adjoining cell and had been there for thirteen months because he refused to join the army. Glaser has not yet decided as to whether he will make a report to the state department concerning the matter.

MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR

Connected With the Disappearance of Mrs. E. T. Gardiner.

BOSTON, July 30—A most mysterious affair connected with the recent Christian Endeavor convention here has just come to light. Mrs. E T. Gardiner, of Arcadia, Neb., who came here as a delegate from Nebraska, has not yet returned to her home and her husband and child, and the report of her death here is not supported by the records by any known facts. Mrs Gardiner is fifty years old. She had always apparently been healthy, and when her husband received from her a letter dated July 15, stating that she was about to die, he was astounded Following that letter come another, signed "Mr. J. Brown, of South Bend," which neither Mr. Gardiner nor any one else knows, stating that the woman was dead, and that in the interest of economy her body would be buried here. The death registories bear no record of any such death, and the detectives employed by Mr. Gardiner have failed to find a trace of Mrs. Gardiner, dead or alive. It is feared by some of those interested in the case that Mrs. Gardiner had been spirited away by thieves who were attracted by the large sum of money and valuable jewelry she carried, while some believe she died, and that her body was secured for dissection purposes. When Mrs Gardiner was in Boston she did not stay with the rest of the Nebraska delegation at the state headquarters, but with some friends who cannot now be found.

CONFESSED THE CRIME.

The Murderer of Mrs. Cain Tells His Story.

ST. LOUIS, Mo, July 30.—Emmett Divers, the colored man who was brought here several days ago from Hannibal, Mo, to escape lynching for the outrage and murder of Mrs. J. W. Cain, near Fulton, last Tuesday, has confessed. He said he outraged her and then cut her throat eight times Divers went into the bloody details of his crime without any emotion, other than to smile at times.

News of the tragedy reached Fulton at noon. Sheriff Windsor and his deputies and a posse were soon on a trail that led to the capture of Divers in the afternoon at a farmhouse two miles from where the crime was committed He was taken to Fulton immediately after his capture and was hurried out of there at night to avoid a mob and taken to Mexico, Mo. From there he was transferred to other towns in succession and was finally brought to St. Louis from Hannibal.

ACTORS ARRESTED.

The Play Entitled "A Crime of a Century" is Suppressed.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—The production of the play entitled "The Crime of a Century," which was placed on the stage at the Alcazar theatre last night was stopped in the middle of the third act, just at the point where Dubois, the character who is supposed to impersonate Durrant, was about to drag a young woman to the belfry of a church. Sheriff Wheland and his deputies marched on the stage and arrested the performers, eleven in all. The manager of the theatre was also placed under arrest. The manager stepped before the curtain and made a speech, in which he claimed he had a right to produce the play, but he was taken into custody nevertheless for disobeying the order made by Judge Murphy restraining him from putting the piece on the stage. A great crowd attended the performance, which was hissed at intervals. The whole company spent the night in jail.

WEDDING AT LONDON.

The Duke of Argyle Married to Ina McNiell.

LONDON, July 30.—The duke of Argyle was married today to Miss Ina McNiell, formerly a lady of the bed chamber to the queen, and a cousin of Sir John McNiell, who married the duke of Argyle's sister. The ceremony took place at the palace of Ripon and was performed by the bishop of Ripon, who is a cousin of the bride. The wedding was quiet, owing to the recent death of Lord Colin Campbell, fifth son of the duke of Argyle.

TROOPS TO THE FRONT.

Their Destination is Union Pass, Wyoming.

Reports of Conflicts Between Whites and Indians in the Teton Country Are Coming In.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 30—Information received in this city is to the effect that several collisions between Indians and whites have occurred, not, however, in Jackson's Hole, but nearer the Teton country.

LANDER, Wyo., July 30—Fifty thoroughly armed and equipped horsemen have gone to Big Wind river. They were to be joined by thirty-five more mounted men at Horse creek, and will pick up such recruits as may be found along the route Their destination was the vicinity of Union Pass, so they might hold off any hostiles who should come through any of the passes leading from Jackson's Hole. The men went out in two sections only a few minutes apart. The first squad was in command of Arthur M. Sparkshawk, ex-sheriff of the county. The second was headed by Sheriff Grimmet. Telegraphic orders have been received from Governor Richards by the commander of companies B, C, N and G to co-operate with the civil authorities for the protection of the people of the county. The passes leading into the Lander valley will be guarded and timely warning be given if the hostiles are driven this way by the military. Frank Lowe, guide and Indian fighter, reports twenty Bannocks camped in Little Paopaogie canon, nineteen miles directly south of this city. It was said they were on no hostile mission, simply skulking around the mountains to get out of harms way and doubtless with an eye to future business.

PEACEFUL NEWS FROM MARKET LANE.

WASHINGTON, July 30—General Schofield today received the following telegram from headquarters of the department of the Platte, at Omaha, dated July 29:

"A courier who arrived at Market Lake this morning reports that when he left General Coppinger's troops last night, information had just been brought by a runner from Marysvale that all is quiet there. The Lemhi agent telegraphs that only three of his Indians are supposed to be in the Jackson Hole country, and there is no indication that others will join the uprising there."

The army officials regard this information as favorable to an early and peaceful termination of the Jackson Hole disturbance. The troops are due to arrive at Jackson's Hole this afternoon.

SEARCHING FOR BODIES

The Exploration of the Holmes House Continues.

The Vat Found Yesterday Contained Only a Few Gallons of Petroleum.

CHICAGO, July 30.—Peter Cigrand, father of Emiline Cigrand, who is said to have been murdered by H. H. Holmes, arrived in Chicago today with Philomina Cigraud, sister of the missing girl. With Dr. B. J. Cigrand, a relative, they went to police headquarters, where a secret conference was held with Chief Badenoch and Inspector Fitzpatrick. The search for the acid vats in the castle basements was continued. The tank which was uncovered yesterday was forced open, but nothing was found but a few inches of petroleum in the bottom of the vat. Old man Chappell's story that the tanks were used for dissolving human bodies was largely disproved of by today's investigation, but search for other vats was continued, as it was believed that Chappel might have been mistaken as to their location.

MORE BONES DISCOVERED.

In the course of the further excavation in H. H. Holmes' Sixty-third street building today, the police unearthed parts of two thigh bones, a piece of skull and four smaller pieces of bone.

They went to Michigan but, becoming dissatisfied, Mrs. Covey returned home Saturday night. She was told to leave town by the first train Monday morning and did so, going to Harrisville for legal advice. Armed with a peace warrant, she returned to Jayville, where her parents reside, and was met at the depot by a crowd of men, women and boys, who stripped her of her clothing and bruised her so terribly that she may die. No arrests have been made. Jayville is a small backwoods village, consisting mostly of huts.

SALOONS AT HAMMOND.

Sunday Liquor Law Observed on the Indiana Side,

But on the Illinois Side it is Treated With Contempt, and Drunkenness is Rife.

HAMMOND, Ind, July 30—Situated as it is on both sides of the line dividing the states of Indiana and Illinois, Hammond is quite difficult to bring under the restraint of the Nicholson law, and an illustration of this fact was demonstrated Sunday. Every saloon in the First, Second and Third wards was closed "as tight as a drum.' The three wards mentioned embrace the thickly populated district and contain some seventy saloons. Without exception these saloons complied with the provision of law requiring them to be closed on Sunday. The doors were locked, the blinds and screens drawn, so that their interior could be plainly seen, and the keepers and bartenders were conspicuous by their absence.

Yet by no means was it a "dry Sunday." No one suffered for want of his customary drink, and all because Hammond lies in two states Just across the state line and within a stone throw of the center of the city is the village of West Hammond. The village boasts of six saloons, and Sunday was their banner day. They sold more drinks in the eighteen hours ending with midnight than ever before in a month's time, with the possible exception of the preceding Sunday.

Profiting by the experience of one week ago, preparations had been made for an exceptionally busy day. An extra supply of beer had been laid in; additional bartenders had been engaged, and everything had been prepared for an immense business, but even then the supply was not equal to the demand, and long before night the breweries had to be called upon for a fresh supply.

All day long the six saloons in that usually quiet village were crowded with customers. Lines of people could be seen wending their way westward in quest of their Sunday drink.

The bucket brigade was out in force, the "growler" was in constant demand. Knots of people could be seen here and there and every few minutes one of their number would leave for the nearest saloon, bucket in hand, and that he never returned empty-handed could be seen by the expression on his face and the way in which he carried the "growler." Then they would all smile and the scene would be repeated.

But not alone to the west side was this state of affairs confined. The Fourth ward came in for its share of the patronage. This ward comprises the newly annexed territory north of the city, and extends to Lake Michigan. It embraces the towns of Roby and Robertsdale, and has some ten or twelve saloons within its border. These resorts were run "wide open" all day, no attempt whatever being made to conform to the law. At the main entrance to the race track at Roby there are three saloons, each of which did a "land office business." That point is the junction of the Hammond, Whiting and East Chicago and the South Chicago electric street railroads, and these lines carried hundreds of people there. The doors of the saloons were wide open, and the women and children on the outside could hear the ribald talk of the men within. The authorities seemed to have ignored the place entirely, as not a policeman was seen in the vicinity all day.

But in only one way have the saloonkeepers of this city complied with the law, and that is by closing on Sunday. All the other provisions of the law are violated every day. There are just as many pool and billiard tables as usual Every saloon has its slot machines, and many of them have music boxes. Games of cards are going on in every saloon all day long and until late at night. Many of the places are run "wide open" from Monday morning until Saturday night, no attention whatever being paid to the 11 o'clock law.

One saloon man is fortunate enough to have his building so situated as to be in both Indiana and Illinois. He has applied for a license in Illinois and will hereafter run his bar on the Indiana side during the week and move over on the Illinois side on Sunday. It is needless to say that he is envied by all the other saloonkeepers, and it is not at all unlikely that other buildings may be erected in the near future which will have the same advantages.

What has induced the saloon men to close their places of business on Sunday can not be learned, unless it is through fear of indictments being returned through the efforts of law-abiding citizens.

An effort will be made this week to organize a league in West Hammond for the purpose of making war on the saloons of that village, but what the outcome will be can not be surmised. That place is populated by a foreign class of citizens who will not take kindly to any effort to close their saloons on Sunday, or any other day, for that matter. Should that project prove a failure, an effort will be made to have the local authorities deal severely with those who persist in going to West Hammond to get drunk and then return to the Indiana side of the line and show that they care nothing for the Nicholson law or anything else.

When the gambling dens in Chicago were closed a short time ago two or three first-class layouts were brought here and started up, in hopes that some of the "short haired fraternity" could be induced to come here and play, but the project soon fell through from want of patronage and the proprietors were compelled to pawn their paraphernalia in order to secure funds to leave town. There is no gambling going on now, except occasionally one hears of a private game of poker. It is doubtful if all the sports in town can raise enough money to open a first class jack-pot. Only a year or two ago these same sports were in clover. Games were going on in every saloon in town, the gamblers were flush and everything was moving swimmingly

RIOT AT NEGRO PICNIC.

Hodcarriers Had a Bloody Time at Knightstown.

Henry Travan Shoots at Will Warfield and Kills Bert Hawkins, a Citizen of Spiceland.

KNIGHTSTOWN, Ind., July 30.—Hod Carriers' union, No 1, composed of colored people of Indianapolis, held a picnic at the fair grounds here yesterday. The train bearing the party was composed of five coaches and a baggage car, and brought to town between four and five hundred. They had provisions in plenty, and were accompanied by a brass band and other instrumental music. All passed off smoothly for a time until a major portion of the company became intoxicated. Beer was sold on the grounds by the picnic party without let or hinderance. During the afternoon there were numerous fights All kinds of gambling known to the fraternity was carried on openly and aboveboard. At one of the halls a dance was in progress. Drinking was the general order.

It was on the race course in front of the grand stand where a regular hand-to hand encounter occurred, and men and women alike were mixed up in the melee. Henry Travern and a woman named Ellen Marshall, who were in the crowd, became involved in a quarrel, and Will Warfield, another colored man, interfered. Travan drew a revolver and shot at Warfield, but the ball went wide. Travan continued firing apparently at random, and one of the shots, no one seems to know which, struck Bert Hawkins, colored, of Spiceland, this county. The ball entered the left breast, in the region of the heart

Hawkins was an innocent bystander, and had come to the picnic to spend the day. As soon as he was shot he lifted his hands to his breast and then dropped to the ground in a death-like swoon, and in a very short space of time he was dead. Hawkins was forty years old, and leaves a wife and five children.

Immediately after the shooting Travan fled, followed by a crowd of citizens. Close behind them, however, came a man named Omer McDonald, who held the posse at bay with a double barrel shotgun, while Travan escaped. Travan is a large, burly negro, and is considered a desperate character. He is said to belong at Louisville, Ky. He did not leave with the rest of the excursionists, but is still in the neighborhood, and the authorities are making every effort to effect his capture.

REMARKABLE CAVE

Has Been Found Along White River, in Arizona.

YUMA, Ari., July 30—On the White river, eight miles from Camp Apache, has been found a remarkable cave. For 600 feet of the distance the explorers were obliged to crawl on their hands and knees, using candles and bullseye's lanterns for light They found between 300 and 400 human skeletons, indicating the remains of persons who had perhaps been smothered to death by smoke long years ago. Some of them were in crevices just large enough to admit a body. The skeletons are of various sizes, some being very small. The skulls are of a brown color, with the exception of a few that are white. The White Mountain Apaches are very superstitious about the cave, and say that within it there is a large lake of water. The visitors found no water, but intend to explore it further. There are but two ways of entering it.

CORBETT-FITZSIMMONS

Hunting for a Place Where They Can Fight.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 30.—A private telegram was received here this morning from one of the officers of the Florida Athletic club inquiring as to the feasibility of pulling off the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight in Mexico, just across the border from Laredo or Eagle Pass, Texas. The club desired to know what facilities, in the manner of transportation, could be afforded by railroads leading to the border. The latter question was immediately taken up by telegram with the railroads and it is believed a satisfactory guarantee as to rates and transportation facilities will be given by the passenger departments of the roads concerned. It is believed that the outspoken attitude of Governor Culberson towards the proposed pugilistic carnival precludes all possibility of its taking place at any time in Texas.

It is the first time for years a workhouse penalty has been imposed in a liquor case. Gates gave notice of an appeal, but he was committed, as there is no evading the penalty of imprisonment while the appeal is pending.

The telegraph and telephone companies are now preparing to put their wires underground as soon as possible.

Murders are committed with impunity, and recently the police assassinated a reputable citizen of the capital city. President Gutierrez is unequal to his position and his cabinet is made up of heterogenious elements, including Catholics, rampant atheists, agnostics, free masons, liberals and conservatives, who issue directions, while Gutierrez looks helplessly on The cabinet has been ironically nicknamed the "Hodge Podge" cabinet. The police are searching for Francisco Bachez who recently ran amuck through the streets of the capital shooting right and left and killing instantly a worthy citizen. SMOOTH PROFESSIONAL.

Residence of Col. R. S. Robertson Burglarized.

Quite a Sum of Money Taken From a Pocketbook—The Job Was Cleverly Executed.

A professional burglar last night entered the residence of Col. R S. Robertson, corner of Broadway and West Berry street, and secured quite a sum of money from the colonel's pocketbook.

The robbery was evidently carefully planned and was skillfully executed. It is thought the burglar secreted himself in the residence, possibly in the parlor, early in the evening, and after the family had retired for the night took his own time in looking for valuables.

As is there custom almost every evening during warm weather, Colonel and Mrs. Robertson last evening sat on the porch, the colonel going into the house to read when it became dark and his wife remaining seated outside.

Shortly after 10 o'clock they retired, leaving the front door opened for Miss Mabel, thinking that she would return every moment, and leaving her to lock the door. The screen was left closed, and, as many people pass by this corner, it was not supposed any one would have courage to enter.

Shortly after 11 o'clock Miss Mabel and her escort returned. She requested her friend to remain until the house had been securely locked, for some reason feeling a presentiment that something was not right. The last thing she did when her friend left was to turn the night latch in the front door.

During the night Colonel Robertson was awakened two or three times but attributed his restlessness to the wind. This morning when he wakened and glanced at his clothing, which he left on a chair close beside the bed, he at once exclaimed that he had been robbed. He noticed that his garments were not as he had left them. He felt for his watch and was surprised to find it in its usual place. His wallet in his coat pocket was also undisturbed However, when he reached for his pocketbook in his trousers he found it missing.

Nothing else was taken upstairs, but from a secretary drawer in the library Mrs. Robertson's gold ring was found missing and some small change taken from Miss Mabel's pocketbook. Curious as it may seem, a small but sagacious dog was in the house and never made a sound. The colonel's pocketbook was found in the parlor and beside it a burnt match. What makes it very evident that the man was a professional is the fact that nothing which would lead to his identification was taken, even some small coins of an early date being left in the pocketbook The burglar might have helped himself to other articles of value, but was evidently only after cash. The front door was found unlocked this morning, showing how the man had left the house.

Colonel Robertson had been paid quite a sum of money Saturday evening, too late for banking, and neglected to deposit it yesterday, expecting to use it for a special purpose today. This is the third time he has been robbed; the last time being relieved at his hotel in Salt Lake City.

AUGUST WEATHER.

Professor Hicks Tells What it is Going to Be.

Professor Hicks predicts as follows for the month of August: From Aubust 1 to 8 will be a storm period of greater or less violence, with hot and increasing temperature, till the reactionary period of the 9th. There will be a moon eclipse of the sun on the 20th and besides the moon will be at its perigree, thus producing very dangerous storm conditions, accompanied by earthquakes in various parts of the globe. The month closes with another storm period with violent downpouring of rain about the 26th.

PROF. WM. MILES.

Success of the Cantata Given at Winona Assembly.

The people from this city who heard the cantata "Under the Palms," given at Winona assembly last Friday and Saturday, under the direction of Prof. Wm. Miles, of this city, say that its rendition reflected great credit upon the professor, as it was produced in the finest manner.

Especially admirable was the way in which he drilled the children for the difficult choruses, and his work was admired by all who had the pleasure of attending the concerts. Professor Miles is thoroughly at home in teaching children and his work in that line places him foremost among the successful music directors of America.

The Creation will be given at Winona August 14, when a large chorus from Warsaw, augmented by many Fort Wayne singers, will participate Success is assured for this beautiful oratorio.

Frank Zipp was arrested on Wells street last evening by Officer Sommers and locked up on a charge of drunk. He went to jail for eleven days.

CRUSHED BETWEEN CARS

Sad Accident to Jesse W. France Last Evening.

He Refuses to Allow the Physician to Amputate His Limb and Is Quite Low at the Hospital.

Jesse W. France, an extra conductor on the street railway is lying seriously injured at the St. Joseph hospital. France was detailed to take charge of an excursion car last night, and at the completion of the trip ran his car, No. 61, of the Hanna street line, to the barn, on Railroad street, he jumped to the ground for the purpose of reversing the trolley, and started around the car, which, at that moment, was standing at the intersection of the two tracks, with one end on the main track. Just as France started to walk around his car, holding the trolley rope, Main street car No. 39, Motorman Jarrett in charge, came slowly down the main track and bumped up against France's car, catching the young man between the two cars. Jarrett at once applied the brakes and the injured man was taken to Detzer's drug store suffering internally. Later he was removed to the hospital, where he was attended by Dr. Myers. An examination of his injuries disclosed a compound fracture of the bones of the left thigh and severe bruises about the upper parts of the limbs and also about the body. The pains in the region of the abdomen were so intense as to lead to the belief that there were internal injuries. After having his wounds dressed the patient rested easier, but this morning he was very weak from loss of blood. The doctor advised amputation of the limb, but the patient would not consent.

Two years ago the young man accidentally shot and killed Henry Marthens at the latter's home, on Fairfield avenue.

He is a son of Abraham France, of Aboite township, and had only returned to work yesterday after a week's vacation, attending the encampment of the state troops at Indianapolis.

CHARGES REFUTED.

Prisoners at the Jail Were Not Mistreated.

J C Miller, of Andrews, who came to this city to secure the release from jail of Patrick Lambert and Herbert Emery, two men whom the Gazette of this morning quotes as having been mistreated while in jail, called at THE SENTINEL office this morning to contradict these statements It was through his instrumentality that Justice Hays signed the writ for the release of the prisoners and he says the men left last evening for Andrews, where they will be given work. Mr. Miller is a well known engineer on the Wabash road and has been a friend of Lambert and Emery for a long time. The two men told him just before they left the city that they had been uniformly well treated by the sheriff and his assistants while in jail and that they had no complaint whatever to make. Mr. Miller says the article in the Gazette must have been written under misapprehension of facts as the men told him an entirely different story about their treatment while in jail.

In reference to Graham and Mihnere, the two witnesses held in the shooting affair, who were released from jail by Judge O'Rourke, Deputy Sheriff Harrod says that they were not "unmercifully cuffed," as stated, and that no note asking for their release was ever in the hands of a deputy sheriff

The alleged "sensational disclosure" contained in the newspaper article referred to amounts to nothing at all, but it unjustly reflects on the jail officials Sheriff Clausmeier is not the kind of a man to maltreat prisoners, nor to allow it to be done by others He has too big a heart for that, and those who know him will not believe any such charges as that He had nothing at all to do with the release of the prisoners, named above, from jail.

A FEW OF MANY

Persons Who Have Been Afforded Great Relief.

Below will be found a few testimonials to the skill of the widely known and justly famous Shaker Doctors, and the great value of their wonderful remedy, "Shaker Herbs" The doctors and their assistants are guests of the Hotel Rich, and if the reader is afflicted with a tapeworm or any bodily ailment he should not fail to call on them

Mr. William Haller, the well known butcher, testifies

FORT WAYNE Ind , July 31, '95

I am more than pleased to testify that on Friday, July 26 I called on the Shaker Medicine company in their offices at the Hotel Rich for consultation in regard to some mysterious ailment from which I had been suffering for a number of years and from which local physicians seemed to be unable to give me any relief. The doctor informed me that I was afflicted with a Tape worm. He gave me one dose of Shaker Herbs and in the course of several hours I was relieved of a monstrous Tape worm I suffered from no sickness or inconvenience of any kind and gladly testify to the efficacy of Shaker Herbs

WILLIAM HALLER,
107 East Lewis St

A testimonial from Mr John Mury, a railroader, of Bluffton, Ind .

FORT WAYNE, Ind , July 30 1895

I am glad to state, for the benefit of those suffering from similar afflictions, that I took a dose of Shaker Herbs this morning and it removed from me a tape worm forty five feet long Same was alive and moving several hours after I passed it and the head was plainly visible.

The medicine causes me no suffering whatever, and I am unable to express the thanks that are due the Shaker doctors for the relief they have given me

JOHN MURY,
Bluffton, Ind.

Miss Louisa Hagman, of Spy Run avenue, has a few words to say in regard to Shaker Herbs·

FORT WAYNE, Ind , July 30, 1895.

I do hereby certify that on this day I called on the Shaker Doctors at their rooms in the Rich Hotel, and after taking a dose of their medicine I passed a tape worm, head and all The medicine caused me no sickness, pain or suffering.

I can not say too much for this good man who does so much for suffering humanity.

It will afford me pleasure to give any lady full particulars who will call on me at my home.

MISS LOUISA HAGMAN,
Spy Run Avenue

Mrs. John Ulrich, of Gay street, has a little daughter cured

FORT WAYNE, Ind , July 30, 1895.

I am pleased to state to sufferers from tape worm that my daughter, Anna, fourteen years old, called on the Shaker doctor, at Rich hotel, this morning, and took one dose of his medicine, which did not make her sick or cause her any pain, but removed from her a tape worm sixty one feet long.

I am truly thankful to the Shaker doctors and recommend all who are suffering to call on them before they leave

MRS JOHN ULRICH,
237 Gay street.

A few words from Mr Otto K Chaney, postmaster at Zanesville, Ind , and brother-in-law of Mr. Horace Keller, the well known railroad employe He comes in contact with a local physician who makes a foolish promise

JEALOUSY BECOMES PREDOMINANT

Yesterday when I mentioned, in the presence of several gentlemen, that the Shaker Doctors were to remove a tape worm from me this morning, a certain physician on East Wayne street remarked that the business of the Shaker Doctors was a fake and that, if they succeeded in removing a worm from me, he would make me a present of $20. If this man would go to the rooms of the Shaker Doctors and see the worm head and all, alive and crawling, he would cease to condem good work, through jealousy, and oblige me by keeping his promise relative to the $20

OTTO K CHANEY

FORT WAYNE, Ind , July 31, 1895

This is to inform the sufferers from tape worm that I've been a sufferer for years and have doctored without success. I saw the advertisement of the Shaker Doctor and came to him yesterday. He told me to return this morning and to my delight after taking a dose of his Wonderful Herbs I passed a tape worm 73½ feet long, head and all complete. In previous efforts I have passed as much as 100 feet, but was unable to get the head until this worthy gentleman so generously offered his assistance.

Too much can not be said in praise of these truly wonderful medicines and I cheerfully recommend all persons in any way afflicted to avail themselves of this opportunity to receive assistance

OTTO K CHANEY,
P M Zanesville, Ind

AMERICAN INSULTED.

Germany Heaps Numerous Indignities Upon Glaser.

Arrested and Thrown Into Prison and His Passport, Bearing Gresham's Signature, Dishonored.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 30.—William Glaser, an engineer on the Valley railroad and a resident of this city, has just returned from a visit to his old home in Germany. Glaser came to this country nine years ago when a boy, and is a naturalized citizen. While in Reichnau, German, he was arrested and thrown into prison for having failed to serve three years in the army, as required by the German law. The authorities informed him that for the offense he had been fined 200 marks and must serve forty days in jail. His passport, signed by Secretary W. Q. Gresham, was taken from him and numerous other indignities offered. The cell in which he was confined was in a most filthy condition. After much trouble Glaser succeeded in securing a hearing and was finally told that his sentence had been remitted, but that he must not leave Germany until his case had been investigated by a higher court. He, however, left the country at the first opportunity. While in jail Mr. Glaser learned that an American citizen was in an adjoining cell and had been there for thirteen months because he refused to join the army. Glaser has not yet decided as to whether he will make a report to the state department concerning the matter.

MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR

Connected With the Disappearance of Mrs. E. T. Gardiner.

BOSTON, July 30.—A most mysterious affair connected with the recent Christian Endeavor convention here has just come to light. Mrs. E. T. Gardiner, of Arcadia, Neb., who came here as a delegate from Nebraska, has not yet returned to her home and her husband and child, and the report of her death here is not supported by the records by any known facts. Mrs. Gardiner is fifty years old. She had always apparently been healthy, and when her husband received from her a letter dated July 16, stating that she was about to die, he was astounded. Following that letter came another, signed "Mr. J. Brown, of South Bend," which neither Mr. Gardiner nor any one else knows, stating that the woman was dead, and that in the interest of economy her body would be buried here. The death registeries bear no record of any such death, and the detectives employed by Mr. Gardiner have failed to find a trace of Mrs. Gardiner, dead or alive. It is feared by some of those interested in the case that Mrs. Gardiner had been spirited away by thieves who were attracted by the large sum of money and valuable jewelry she carried, while some believe she died, and that her body was secured for dissection purposes. When Mrs. Gardiner was in Boston she did not stay with the rest of the Nebraska delegation at the state headquarters, but with some friends who cannot now be found.

CONFESSED THE CRIME.

The Murderer of Mrs. Cain Tells His Story.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 30.—Emmett Divers, the colored man who was brought here several days ago from Hannibal, Mo., to escape lynching for the outrage and murder of Mrs. J. W. Cain, near Fulton, last Tuesday, has confessed. He said he outraged her and then cut her throat eight times. Divers went into the bloody details of his crime without any emotion, other than to smile at times.

News of the tragedy reached Fulton at noon. Sheriff Windsor and his deputies and a posse were soon on a trail that led to the capture of Divers in the afternoon at a farmhouse two miles from where the crime was committed. He was taken to Fulton immediately after his capture and was hurried out of there at night to avoid a mob and taken to Mexico, Mo. From there he was transferred to other towns in succession and was finally brought to St. Louis from Hannibal.

ACTORS ARRESTED.

The Play Entitled "A Crime of a Century" is Suppressed.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—The production of the play entitled "The Crime of a Century," which was placed on the stage at the Alcazar theatre last night was stopped in the middle of the third act, just at the point where Dubois, the character who is supposed to impersonate Durrant, was about to drag a young woman to the belfry of a church. Sheriff Whelan and his deputies marched on the stage and arrested the performers, eleven in all. The manager of the theatre was also placed under arrest. The manager stepped before the curtain and made a speech, in which he claimed he had a right to produce the play, but he was taken into custody nevertheless for disobeying the order made by Judge Murphy restraining him from putting the piece on the stage. A great crowd attended the performance, which was hissed at intervals. The whole company spent the night in jail.

WEDDING AT LONDON.

The Duke of Argyle Married to Ina McNeill.

LONDON, July 30.—The duke of Argyle was married today to Miss Ina McNeill, formerly a lady of the bed chamber to the queen, and a cousin of Sir John McNeill, who married the duke of Argyle's sister. The ceremony took place at the palace of Ripon and was performed by the bishop of Ripon, who is a cousin of the bride. The wedding was quiet, owing to the recent death of Lord Colin Campbell, fifth son of the duke of Argyle.

TROOPS TO THE FRONT.

Their Destination is Union Pass, Wyoming.

Reports of Conflicts Between Whites and Indians in the Teton Country Are Coming In.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 30.—Information received in this city is to the effect that several collisions between Indians and whites have occurred, not, however, in Jackson's Hole, but nearer the Teton country.

LANDER, Wyo., July 30.—Fifty thoroughly armed and equipped horsemen have gone to Big Wind river. They were to be joined by thirty-five more mounted men at Horse creek, and will pick up such recruits as may be found along the route. Their destination was the vicinity of Union Pass, so they might hold off any hostiles who should come through any of the passes leading from Jackson's Hole. The men went out in two sections only a few minutes apart. The first squad was in command of Arthur M. Sparkshawk, ex-sheriff of the county. The second was headed by Sheriff Grimmet. Telegraphic orders have been received from Governor Richards by the commander of companies B, C, N and G to co-operate with the civil authorities for the protection of the people of the county. The passes leading into the Lander valley will be guarded and timely warning be given if the hostiles are driven this way by the military. Frank Lowe, guide and Indian fighter, reports twenty Bannocks camped in Little Popoagie canon, nineteen miles directly south of this city. It was said they were on no hostile mission, simply skulking around the mountains to get out of harms way and doubtless with an eye to future business.

PEACEFUL NEWS FROM MARKET LAKE.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—General Schofield today received the following telegram from headquarters of the department of the Platte, at Omaha, dated July 29:

"A courier who arrived at Market Lake this morning reports that when he left General Coppinger's troops last night, information had just been brought by a runner from Marysvale that all is quiet there. The Lembi agent telegraphs that only three of his Indians are supposed to be in the Jackson Hole country, and there is no indication that others will join the uprising there."

The army officials regard this information as favorable to an early and peaceful termination of the Jackson Hole disturbance. The troops are due to arrive at Jackson's Hole this afternoon.

SEARCHING FOR BODIES

The Exploration of the Holmes House Continues.

The Vat Found Yesterday Contained Only a Few Gallons of Petroleum.

CHICAGO, July 30.—Peter Cigrand, father of Emiline Cigrand, who is said to have been murdered by H. H. Holmes, arrived in Chicago today with Philomina Cigrand, sister of the missing girl. With Dr. B. J. Cigrand, a relative, they went to police headquarters, where a secret conference was held with Chief Badenoch and Inspector Fitzpatrick. The search for the acid vats in the castle basements was continued. The tank which was uncovered yesterday was forced open, but nothing was found but a few inches of petroleum in the bottom of the vat. Old man Chappell's story that the tanks were used for dissolving human bodies was largely disproved of by today's investigation, but search for other vats was continued, as it was believed that Chappel might have been mistaken as to their location.

MORE BONES DISCOVERED.

In the course of the further excavation in H. H. Holmes' Sixty-third street building today, the police unearthed parts of two thigh bones, a piece of skull and four smaller pieces of bone.

THE WAGES OF SIN

Meted Out to Mrs. Hattie Covey.

She Left Husband, Child and a Good Home for a Life of Shame and Receives Her Award.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., July 30.—Mrs. Hattie Covey, wife of Burt Covey, a resident of Jayville, on the Carthage and Adirondack railroad, eloped June 22 with John Kirch, superintendent of a saw mill, leaving one child. Kirch left a wife and four children. They went to Michigan but, becoming dissatisfied, Mrs. Covey returned home Saturday night. She was told to leave town by the first train Monday morning and did so, going to Harrisville for legal advice. Armed with a peace warrant, she returned to Jayville, where her parents reside, and was met at the depot by a crowd of men, women and boys, who stripped her of her clothing and bruised her so terribly that she may die. No arrests have been made. Jayville is a small backwoods village, consisting mostly of huts.

Bank Failure.

SALISBURY, Mo., July 30.—The bank of Salisbury closed its doors this morning. Shortage unknown. J. C. Finks was cashier, H. B. Branham assistant.

SALOONS AT HAMMOND.

Sunday Liquor Law Observed on the Indiana Side,

But on the Illinois Side It Is Treated With Contempt, and Drunkenness is Rife.

HAMMOND, Ind., July 30.—Situated as it is on both sides of the line dividing the states of Indiana and Illinois, Hammond is quite difficult to bring under the restraint of the Nicholson law, and an illustration of this fact was demonstrated Sunday. Every saloon in the First, Second and Third wards was closed "as tight as a drum." The three wards mentioned embrace the thickly populated district and contain some seventy saloons. Without exception these saloons complied with the provision of law requiring them to be closed on Sunday. The doors were locked, the blinds and screens drawn, so that their interior could be plainly seen, and the keepers and bartenders were conspicuous by their absence.

Yet by no means was it a "dry Sunday." No one suffered for want of his customary drink, and all because Hammond lies in two states. Just across the state line and within a stone throw of the center of the city is the village of West Hammond. The village boasts of six saloons, and Sunday was their banner day. They sold more drinks in the eighteen hours ending with midnight than ever before in a month's time, with the possible exception of the preceding Sunday.

Profiting by the experience of one week ago, preparations had been made for an exceptionally busy day. An extra supply of beer had been laid in; additional bartenders had been engaged, and everything had been prepared for an immense business, but even then the supply was not equal to the demand, and long before night the breweries had to be called upon for a fresh supply.

All day long the six saloons in that usually quiet village were crowded with customers. Lines of people could be seen wending their way westward in quest of their Sunday drink.

The bucket brigade was out in force, the "growler" was in constant demand. Knots of people could be seen here and there and every few minutes one of their number would leave for the nearest saloon, bucket in hand, and that he never returned empty-handed could be seen by the expression on his face and the way in which he carried the "growler." Then they would all smile and the scene would be repeated.

But not alone to the west side was this state of affairs confined. The Fourth ward came in for its share of the patronage. This ward comprises the newly annexed territory north of the city, and extends to Lake Michigan. It embraces the towns of Roby and Robertsdale, and has some ten or twelve saloons within its border. These resorts were run "wide open" all day, no attempt whatever being made to conform to the law. At the main entrance to the race track at Roby there are three saloons, each of which did a "land office business." That point is the junction of the Hammond, Whiting and East Chicago and the South Chicago electric street railroads, and these lines carried hundreds of people there. The doors of the saloons were wide open, and the women and children on the outside could hear the ribald talk of the men within. The authorities seemed to have ignored the place entirely, as not a policeman was seen in the vicinity all day.

But in only one way have the saloonkeepers of this city complied with the law, and that is by closing on Sunday. All the other provisions of the law are violated every day. There are just as many pool and billiard tables as usual. Every saloon has its slot machines, and many of them have music boxes. Games of cards are going on in every saloon all day long and until late at night. Many of the places are run "wide open" from Monday morning until Saturday night, no attention whatever being paid to the 11 o'clock law.

One saloon man is fortunate enough to have his building so situated as to be in both Indiana and Illinois. He has applied for a license in Illinois and will hereafter run his bar on the Indiana side during the week and move over on the Illinois side on Sunday. It is needless to say that he is envied by all the other saloonkeepers, and it is not at all unlikely that other buildings may be erected in the near future which will have the same advantages.

What has induced the saloon men to close their places of business on Sunday can not be learned, unless it is through fear of indictments being returned through the efforts of law-abiding citizens.

An effort will be made this week to organize a league in West Hammond for the purpose of making war on the saloons of that village, but what the outcome will be can not be surmised. That place is populated by a foreign class of citizens who will not take kindly to any effort to close their saloons on Sunday, or any other day, for that matter. Should that project prove a failure, an effort will be made to have the local authorities deal severely with those who persist in going to West Hammond to get drunk and then return to the Indiana side of the line and show that they care nothing for the Nicholson law or anything else.

When the gambling dens in Chicago were closed a short time ago two or three first-class layouts were brought here and started up, in hopes that some of the "short haired fraternity" could be induced to come here and play, but the project soon fell through from want of patronage, and the proprietors were compelled to pawn their paraphernalia in order to secure funds to leave town. There is no gambling going on now, except occasionally one hears of a private game of poker. It is doubtful if all the sports in town can raise enough money to open a first-class jack-pot. Only a year or two ago these same sports were in clover. Games were going on in every saloon in town, the gamblers were flush and everything was moving swimmingly.

RIOT AT NEGRO PICNIC.

Hodcarriers Had a Bloody Time at Knightstown.

Henry Travan Shoots at Will Warfield and Kills Bert Hawkins, a Citizen of Spiceland.

KNIGHTSTOWN, Ind., July 30.—Hod Carriers' union, No. 1, composed of colored people of Indianapolis, held a picnic at the fair grounds here yesterday. The train bearing the party was composed of five coaches and a baggage car, and brought to town between four and five hundred. They had provisions in plenty, and were accompanied by a brass band and other instrumental music. All passed off smoothly for a time until a major portion of the company became intoxicated. Beer was sold on the grounds by the picnic party without let or hinderance. During the afternoon there were numerous fights. All kinds of gambling known to the fraternity was carried on openly and aboveboard. At one of the halls a dance was in progress. Drinking was the general order.

It was on the race course in front of the grand stand where a regular hand-to-hand encounter occurred, and men and women alike were mixed up in the melee. Henry Travern and a woman named Ellen Marshall, who were in the crowd, became involved in a quarrel, and Will Warfield, another colored man, interfered. Travan drew a revolver and shot at Warfield, but the ball went wide. Travan continued firing apparently at random, and one of the shots, no one seems to know which, struck Bert Hawkins, colored, of Spiceland, this county. The ball entered the left breast, in the region of the heart.

Hawkins was an innocent bystander, and had come to the picnic to spend the day. As soon as he was shot he lifted his hands to his breast and then dropped to the ground in a death-like swoon, and in a very short space of time he was dead. Hawkins was forty years old, and leaves a wife and five children.

Immediately after the shooting Travan fled, followed by a crowd of citizens. Close behind them, however, came a man named Omer McDonald, who held the posse at bay with a double barrel shotgun, while Travan escaped. Travan is a large, burly negro, and is considered a desperate character. He is said to belong at Louisville, Ky. He did not leave with the rest of the excursionists, but is still in the neighborhood, and the authorities are making every effort to effect his capture.

REMARKABLE CAVE

Has Been Found Along White River, in Arizona.

YUMA, Ari., July 30.—On the White river, eight miles from Camp Apache, has been found a remarkable cave. For 600 feet of the distance the explorers were obliged to crawl on their hands and knees, using candles and bullseye's lanterns for light. They found between 300 and 400 human skeletons, indicating the remains of persons who had perhaps been smothered to death by smoke long years ago. Some of them were in crevices just large enough to admit a body. The skeletons are of various sizes, some being very small. The skulls are of a brown color, with the exception of a few that are white. The White Mountain Apaches are very superstitious about the cave, and say that within it there is a large lake of water. The visitors found no water, but intend to explore it further. There are but two ways of entering it.

WATER-LOGGED.

The Schooner Republic Sinks in Lake Erie.

LORAIN, Ohio, July 30.—During a heavy gale this morning the schooner Republic, in tow of the steam barge Swallow, coal laden, became water-logged and sank in forty feet of water, two miles off this port. The tug Cascade, of this port, succeeded in rescuing all of the crew of eight men, who were clinging to the rigging. The schooner and her cargo will probably be a total loss. She is owned by E. Ewing, of St. Clair, Mich.

Judge Caton Dead.

CHICAGO, July 30.—Judge John D. Caton, ex justice of the Illinois supreme court, died today, aged eighty-four. He has been long ill, having suffered several severe strokes of paralysis. Judge Caton was one of the oldest citizens of Illinois. He came to Chicago in the thirties, before it was a city. He established the first telegraph line in the state.

Deputy Marshal Killed.

SURGENT, Ky., July 30.—At Coleburn, Va., yesterday, Samuel May, deputy United States marshal, shot and killed Mr. Nash. The jail at Wise Courthouse is being guarded to prevent the lynching of May.

Brewery Burned.

HONESDALE, Pa., July 30.—The Irving Cliff brewery and the residence of August Hartung were destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning. The loss is $30,000; insurance, $22,000.

CORBETT-FITZSIMMONS

Hunting for a Place Where They Can Fight.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 30.—A private telegram was received here this morning from one of the officers of the Florida Athletic club inquiring as to the feasibility of pulling off the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight in Mexico, just across the border from Laredo or Eagle Pass, Texas. The club desired to know what facilities, in the manner of transportation, could be afforded by railroads leading to the border. The latter question was immediately taken up by telegram with the railroads and it is believed a satisfactory guarantee as to rates and transportation facilities will be given by the passenger departments of the roads concerned. It is believed that the outspoken attitude of Governor Culberson towards the proposed pugilistic carnival precludes all possibility of its taking place at any time in Texas.

MUST LIVE UP TO IT.

Saloonkeeper Imprisoned for Violating the Nicholson Law.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 30.—The residents of Mount Jackson, a suburb of this city, are fighting the roadhouses under the Nicholson law, and Jerry Gates was tried by a jury for selling intoxicants on a holiday. He was found guilty and fined $25 and costs with ten days in the workhouse. The verdict fell like a thunder clap on the defendant, as well as the saloonkeepers who are awaiting trial. It is the first time for years a workhouse penalty has been imposed in a liquor case. Gates gave notice of an appeal, but he was committed, as there is no evading the penalty of imprisonment while the appeal is pending.

PERNICIOUS PAPERS.

Authorities in Other Cities Suppress Them.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 30.—Thomas J. Johnson, agent of the Indianapolis People, was arrested on Friday night for circulating pernicious literature, and two hundred copies of the paper were confiscated by the police authorities.

TELEGRAPH POLES CUT DOWN.

Cleveland Authorities Propose to Have Wires Underground.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 30.—A gang of men, under direction of City Electrician Hoag, were at work chopping down telegraph and telephone poles in the principal business streets yesterday, regardless of whether the wires had first been removed. The city authorities have for years been endeavoring to compel the various electrical corporations to put their wires under ground, but the pole-cutting stage has never been reached until the present. The telegraph and telephone companies are now preparing to put their wires underground as soon as possible.

IN A STATE OF ANARCHY.

The Republic of Salvador on the Verge of Dissolution.

Murders Committed in Public With Impunity and the Police Turn to be Assassins and Thieves.

CITY OF MEXICO, July 30.—Private advices from the republic of Salvador state that the country is on the verge of anarchy, and there is no longer any pretense at defending property. Murders are committed with impunity, and recently the police assassinated a reputable citizen of the capital city. President Gutierrez is unequal to his position and his cabinet is made up of heterogenious elements, including Catholics, rampant atheists, agnostics, free masons, liberals and conservatives, who issue directions, while Gutierrez looks helplessly on. The cabinet has been ironically nicknamed the "Hodge Podge" cabinet. The police are searching for Francisco Baches, who recently ran amuck through the streets of the capital shooting right and left and killing instantly a worthy citizen. Not finding Baches in his home, the police wantonly killed his brother with great cruelty.

AFTER FORTY YEARS.

Two Sisters are Again Brought Together.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., July 30.—Mrs. James Rosler, of this city, and Mrs. John Miles, sisters who had not seen or heard of each other for fifty-eight years, met at Lake Maxinkuckee. They had lived only forty miles apart for forty two years without knowing it, and their reunion was brought about by a casual mention of the name of one to the other.

Court House Burned.

FRESNO, Cal., July 30.—The court house in this city was burned last night. Only the hall of records was saved. The loss is $100,000; covered by insurance.

SMOOTH PROFESSIONAL.

Residence of Col. R. S. Robertson Burglarized.

Quite a Sum of Money Taken From a Pocketbook—The Job Was Cleverly Executed.

A professional burglar last night entered the residence of Col. R. S. Robertson, corner of Broadway and West Berry street, and secured quite a sum of money from the colonel's pocketbook.

The robbery was evidently carefully planned and was skillfully executed. It is thought the burglar secreted himself in the residence, possibly in the parlor, early in the evening, and after the family had retired for the night took his own time in looking for valuables.

As is there custom almost every evening during warm weather, Colonel and Mrs. Robertson last evening sat on the porch, the colonel going into the house to read when it became dark and his wife remaining seated outside.

Shortly after 10 o'clock they retired, leaving the front door opened for Miss Mabel, thinking that she would return every moment, and leaving her to lock the door. The screen was left closed, and, as many people pass by this corner, it was not supposed any one would have courage to enter.

Shortly after 11 o'clock Miss Mabel and her escort returned. She requested her friend to remain until the house had been securely locked, for some reason feeling a presentiment that something was not right. The last thing she did when her friend left was to turn the night latch in the front door.

During the night Colonel Robertson was awakened two or three times but attributed his restlessness to the wind. This morning when he wakened and glanced at his clothing, which he left on a chair close beside the bed, he at once exclaimed that he had been robbed. He noticed that his garments were not as he had left them. He felt for his watch and was surprised to find it in its usual place. His wallet in his coat pocket was also undisturbed. However, when he reached for his pocketbook in his trousers he found it missing.

Nothing else was taken upstairs, but from a secretary drawer in the library Mrs. Robertson's gold ring was found missing and some small change taken from Miss Mabel's pocketbook. Curious as it may seem, a small but sagacious dog was in the house and never made a sound. The colonel's pocketbook was found in the parlor and beside it a burnt match. What makes it very evident that the man was a professional is the fact that nothing which would lead to his identification was taken, even some small coins of an early date being left in the pocketbook. The burglar might have helped himself to other articles of value, but was evidently only after cash. The front door was found unlocked this morning, showing how the man had left the house.

Colonel Robertson had been paid quite a sum of money Saturday evening, too late for banking, and neglected to deposit it yesterday, expecting to use it for a special purpose today. This is the third time he has been robbed; the last time being relieved at his hotel in Salt Lake City.

AUGUST WEATHER.

Professor Hicks Tells What it is Going to Be.

Professor Hicks predicts as follows for the month of August: From August 1 to 8 will be a storm period of greater or less violence, with hot and increasing temperature, till the reactionary period of the 9th. The following days, to the 13th, will be much cooler, changing to the next regular storm period. It is promised at this time that there will be a diminished rain fall, although the cloudburst tendency of the season may develop in spots. There will be a moon eclipse of the sun on the 20th and besides the moon will be at its perigree, thus producing very dangerous storm conditions, accompanied by earthquakes in various parts of the globe. The month closes with another storm period with violent downpouring of rain about the 26th.

PROF. WM. MILES.

Success of the Cantata Given at Winona Assembly.

The people from this city who heard the cantata "Under the Palms," given at Winona assembly last Friday and Saturday, under the direction of Prof. Wm. Miles, of this city, say that its rendition reflected great credit upon the professor, as it was produced in the finest manner.

Especially admirable was the way in which he drilled the children for the difficult choruses, and his work was admired by all who had the pleasure of attending the concerts. Professor Miles is thoroughly at home in teaching children and his work in that line places him foremost among the successful music directors of America.

The Creation will be given at Winona August 14, when a large chorus from Warsaw, augmented by many Fort Wayne singers, will participate. Success is assured for this beautiful oratorio.

THE TIMES-POST.

The New Afternoon Paper in a Bad Financial Way.

Unless the Times-Post, the new afternoon paper which has been conducted for several weeks by Gert Shober, of this city, and C. H. Bliss, of Auburn, is sold to other parties its publication will soon cease, as it has been a losing financial venture ever since it was started.

Yesterday Major L. A. Centlivre, the young brewer, took possession of the newspaper property on second mortgage claims aggregating $1,700, and besides this there is a first mortgage of $600 inherited from the Monday Morning Times representing indorsements for Mr. Shober by W. H. Shambaugh, J. M. Barrett, ex-Mayor Sherer and others.

The paper will be offered at private sale in the office of Hanna Bros., next Monday, August 5. The newspaper plant has been taken possession of by R. B. Hanna, acting attorney for Mr. Centlivre.

It is understood the paper will continue publication with Messrs. C. L. Drummond and Harry M. Williams at the head of the editorial staff, until the time of sale.

JACK CASE ARRESTED.

He Was Armed With a Heavy Lead Slug Shot.

Two Wild Young Girls on Trial at Police Court Before Mayor Oakley This Morning.

Jack Case, a well known Fort Wayne individual, was arrested this morning at the corner of Ewing and Wayne streets, by Officer Albert Foulks, charged with carrying concealed weapons. Case has been arrested a good many times previously, but the last time he said would be the last. He therefore procured a heavy lead slug-shot and made his brags that the next policeman who tackled him would be laid out. This morning Mr. Case was held up by the officer and very peaceably submitted to being searched. On his person was found the weapon and he was therefore sent to the station house in the patrol and locked up.

POLICE COURT.

Two unfortunate young women, Jennie Boyles and Cora Clark, were on trial this morning before Mayor Oakley charged with drunkenness. The girls were arrested about 2 o'clock last night by Officer Coling, on the corner of Columbia and Barr streets. Both girls have served terms in jail before. They were very saucy and guyed Officer Coling during the trial, much to the merriment of the spectators at court. The girls were sent to jail for nineteen days in default of $5 and costs.

Miner Miller was arrested yesterday afternoon on Broadway by Officer Patton. The man had been indulging in a family quarrel and was intoxicated. He paid out.

Frank Zipp was arrested on Wells street last evening by Officer Summers and locked up on a charge of drunk. He went to jail for eleven days.

CRUSHED BETWEEN CARS.

Sad Accident to Jesse W. France Last Evening.

He Refuses to Allow the Physician to Amputate His Limb and is Quite Low at the Hospital.

Jesse W. France, an extra conductor on the street railway is lying seriously injured at the St. Joseph hospital. France was detailed to take charge of an excursion car last night, and at the completion of the trip ran his car, No. 61, of the Hanna street line, to the barn, on Railroad street, he jumped to the ground for the purpose of reversing the trolley, and started around the car, which, at that moment, was standing at the intersection of the two tracks, with one end on the main track. Just as France started to walk around his car, holding the trolley rope, Main street car No. 30, Motorman Jarrett in charge, came slowly down the main track and bumped up against France's car, catching the young man between the two cars. Jarrett at once applied the brakes and the injured man was taken to Deiser's drug store suffering internally. Later he was removed to the hospital, where he was attended by Dr. Myers. An examination of his injuries disclosed a compound fracture of the bones of the left thigh and severe bruises about the upper parts of the limbs and also about the body. The pains in the region of the abdomen were so intense as to lead to the belief that there were internal injuries. After having his wounds dressed the patient rested easier, but this morning he was very weak from loss of blood. The doctor advised amputation of the limb, but the patient would not consent.

Two years ago the young man accidentally shot and killed Henry Marthens at the latter's home, on Fairfield avenue.

He is a son of Abraham France, of Aboite township, and had only returned to work yesterday after a week's vacation, attending the encampment of the state troops at Indianapolis.

HERMIT DYING.

Assaulted for the Purpose of Robbery.

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio, July 30.—James O'Brien, aged seventy, a hermit living in the wilds of Mount Logan, was found last evening in an unconscious state near his yard with his head beaten to a jelly, and his body showing the marks of many kicks. He regained consciousness long enough to accuse Jim Seamour of the assault for robbery. O'Brien is dying. Seamour escaped.

PORT HURON, Mich., July 30.—The three masted schooner, Samuel J. Tilden, bound up with coal, sprang a leak five miles north of here this morning and was run ashore. The tug Thompson has gone to her assistance. The wind is blowing a gale from the north,

Gen. Reub Williams, of the Warsaw Times, is shedding tears because the young ladies of that town, who have taken to the bicycle, will persist in riding with a hump. The Times is calling upon the ladies to raise the handlebars and sit straight. "The day is not so far distant," it mournfully observes, "when you will bend over as a matter of inability to avoid."

These are dog days which we are passing through just now. Dog days are an invention of the calendar merely as a specification of certain astronomical relations of Sirius, a season in which sultry and humid weather is apt to prevail. But it appears on the records that dogs take to rabies just as much in January as in July, and they also take to people all the year through who fail to let them alone.

The result of the elections in Great Britain show the election of 338 conservatives, 72 unionists, 176 liberals, 59 anti Parnellites and 12 Parnellites. Thus the conservatives, liberal-unionist majority, subject to the results in the three districts yet to be heard from will be 153. The conservative majority over any coalition that can be made will be nine. The unionists have gained 110 seats and the liberals 20.

Put a Tax on the Poles.

When the city council reconvenes after its summer recess an ordinance will be introduced to levy a tax of $1 on every pole erected along our streets for telephone, telegraph, electric lighting and street car purposes. There are over 5,000 poles standing along our streets and such a tax would consequently bring into the city treasury each year just that many dollars which would be a neat sum towards paying the expenses of the city. It is probable that the passage of such an ordinance would result in the cutting down of many of the poles now standing by the companies using them and it might also lead to the placing of the wires under ground. In either case the ordinance would be a good one and it ought to be introduced and passed as the poles, with the net work of overhead wires, have become a regular nuisance and a menance to life and property in case of fire. Other cities are doing away with overhead wires and Fort Wayne ought to do so.

The Hope of the Nation.

The hopes of the country just now rest on the corn crop. Several minor things are going to happen, but there is going to be a great corn crop, and then all will be well with the United States of America.

There is something singular in the fact that, as the magnetic needle, turn the compass as you may, reverts to the north, so the confidence of the United States always turns toward the corn crop. Last year we were talking about wheat as a substitute for corn in feeding hogs, and publishing tables to show that wheat was just as good as corn and perhaps a little better. We could get along without corn if we had wheat, couldn't we? Well, we are not talking about all that this year. The comparative tables are laid aside. We do not care how many pounds of cracked wheat will make a pound of pork. Corn is in sight now, and when that is the case there is nothing like corn.

Corn is American; corn is our own Corn is the triumph and the test. Corn is the greatest gift the continent has ever bestowed upon the world. Corn settles the question of the value of any American locality as an agricultural section. The state or country, hill or valley, that "makes corn" is the best, is A1, and everything else is graded after. The land may raise cane, cotton, wheat, rye, grass—what you will; but it is the corn ground that draws the first number.

This season has such a promise of corn as has not been known in years before. That means that this land of the brave and home of the free will do to bet on. If any man has any money to invest in the United States, now is his time; he may now buy land or beeves, farms or city lots. The sign of the time is the big, fourteen-foot cornstalk, with ears to match. That sign has never failed us yet.

The three ablest men in Europe are Gladstone, Bismarck and Pope Leo. The best baking powder here or abroad is Dr. Price's.

The Paradise of Women.

It is not anywhere in civilization, not even in America, according to Mr. H. Fielding, a writer in Blackwood. It is in heathen Burma. There women is on absolutely the same footing as man in all that pertains to law and custom. There is not a single law that does not bear equally on men the same as on women. Men have never tried to "boss" them or to say what was fitting and what was not fitting for them. "No artificial ideals from long past ages have been held up to them as eternal copies. It has been left to their own good sense and to the eternal fitness of things to determine what is womanly and what is not." The result is, says Mr. Fielding, none is more womanly than the Burmese woman, "none possesses in greater strength all the nameless attractions of a woman."

In the higher classes a woman has property of her own and manages it herself. In the lower classes she always has a trade and runs it herself. The sexes are left to choose their own occupations, and "it is rather curious to find that sewing and embroidery are distinctively male occupations."

The retail trade of the country is in the hands of the women, and they nearly all trade on their own account. Just as the men farm their own land, the women own their businesses. They are not saleswomen for others, but traders on their own account, and, with the exception of the silk and sixth branches of the trade. It does not interfere with home life. The bazaar lasts but three hours, and the woman has ample time for her home duties when her daily visit to the bazaar is over. She is never "kept away all day in shops and factories. Her home life is always the center of her life. She could not neglect it for any other. It would seem to her a losing of the greater in the less. But the effect of this custom of nearly every woman having a little business of her own has a great influence on her life. It broadens her views. It teaches her things she could not learn in the narrow circle of home duties. It gives her that tolerance and understanding which so forcibly strike every one who knows her. It teaches her to know her own strength and weakness and how to make the best of each.

Changes in the British Ministry.

When a British cabinet resigns and the queen invites the head of the opposite political party to form a new cabinet, it is the same as if in America the governmental policy should suddenly change from Democratic to Republican or vice versa. The British are accustomed to hold up their government to Americans as being much more stable than ours. It runs along firmly and smoothly without the convulsions of such frequent general elections, they say.

The truth is that the real government of England changes much more often than that of the United States does, though the British do not make so much fuss over the matter as we do. In the past 50 years the United States has had 13 presidential elections. These have, however, involved a radical change of policy from Democrat to Whig and from Republican to Democrat or otherwise only seven times in the years since 1844. Going back half a century in British politics, we find the Liberals have been in power six times. The Conservatives have been in power, counting the ministry just formed, seven different times. Against our seven changes of government policy therefore the British, with their so called stable government, count up 13.

When an American president, as sometimes happens, finds himself by a congressional election in the middle of his term stranded high and dry without any congress at his back, he can only rub along the best he can till his term of office expires. If he were the so called sovereign of England, no matter what his political views were, when his cabinet found that congress would not pass the bills the administration desired, he would be obliged to accept the resignation of his secretaries and form a cabinet of those who held opposing political views. It will thus be seen that the queen of England has less political power than our president.

In one respect the queen of England has, however, more power than the president. When parliament will no longer respond to the British cabinet by voting in accordance with its views, the prime minister may advise the queen to dissolve the parliament and order a new election, which she does accordingly. This the American president cannot do, although he undoubtedly wishes he could sometimes.

When Spain suppresses the Cuban rebellion, if she ever does, she will find herself with a war debt of not less than $200,000,000 on her hands and no means of paying it except to squeeze it out of the impoverished, unhappy island she has once more prostrated. Cubans undoubtedly wish now that their beautiful island had rebelled against Spain and declared its independence in 1810, when the other Spanish-American provinces did so. But Cuba remained loyal to Spain through all the years from 1810 to 1823 and prided herself on it. The Spaniards called her in consequence the "Ever Faithful Isle." As a reward for her fidelity, however, Spain began a systematic course of taxation which almost sapped the very lifeblood of Cuba. This oppression and injustice are what keeps Cuba in a state of chronic disturbance, which will never be quieted permanently until either the island is free or Spain relaxes her iron grip and governs justly.

The Irish representatives in the British parliament have themselves to thank for the overthrow of the Liberal government and the accession to power of the Conservatives and the Salisbury cabinet. Only for the fatal split into Parnellites and McCarthyites, and the antagonism that could not be stifled in matters even the most vital, the Liberal government would now be in power and home rule in Ireland, if not already actually accomplished, would be very near. It will not do to blame Rosebery's incapacity, lack of person magnetism, etc., to cry aloud, Oh, for one hour of Gladstone! If the home rule party in Ireland is so fractious and inharmonious that it requires a one man power to hold it together, then Ireland is not yet ready for freedom. If the men who took their lives in their hands and started the American Revolution had split into two opposing factions, this country would still be a colony of Great Britain.

Salisbury seems to be trying to make up for the weakness of his support in the house of commons by adding a large number of supporters to his governmental staff. It now contains 19 members, the largest number ever in a British cabinet. If President Cleveland had to wrestle with that many different sets of American opinions in his cabinet, he might indeed despair. It would be worse than when he had "congress on his hands."

A very useful invention has been perfected by a Brooklyn man. He has devised a piano that can be taken apart, moved in sections, carried up any stairway, however small, and put together again in a little room. This will be a boon to dwellers in city flats. The spectacle of a piano swinging in midair before the gaze of a crowd of admiring spectators and being hoisted in at a fourth or fifth story window because the staircase is too narrow to take it up that way has long been a common one. The piano that can be moved in sections will abate much hard work and more hard language on the part of those victims of American musett, the "move men."

The Great L. A. W. Meet Now Near at Hand.

Runs to the Country Given Up for Sport Nearer Home—The Crack Riders Will All be Here.

Dear bloomer girl, though dressed you be
  In masculine severity,
The sly old world you can't deceive,
Even though at times she makes believe
  To listen to your monody.

Why, one with half an eye can see,
  Despite your mannish dignity,
Your heart's the same to love and grieve,
      Dear bloomer girl.

And though you cry "equality,"
  And shock conventionality,
Beneath your fads we all perceive,
You're just like good "old" Mother Eve,
  As simple feminine as she,
      Dear bloomer girl.

BICYCLE BRIEFS.

Miss Theodosia Furman is a new and enthusiastic rider.

George L. Byers went to Berne, Ind., on his wheel yesterday.

Captain Gouty expects to call a century run to Bryan, Ohio, and return, before long.

The cycling club has about abandoned the idea of the erection a club house at Lake Everett.

Mrs. Dr. J. D. Coyle is the owner of a new Smalley wheel. The craze still continues among the dentists.

There were fully 150 bicycle riders at Lake Everett Sunday. The roads over from this city are very good the entire distance.

Clifford O. Morganthaler has resumed his position with House, Hazzard & Co., Peoria, Ill., after spending two weeks' vacation in this city.

Jessie Robinson, an Indianapolis maiden of twenty, expects to ride from Chicago to the City of Mexico alone, leaving about August 10.

Steger & Gouty will soon have a new wheel on the market known as the "White Flyer." It is the same as that ridden by John S. Johnson.

Workmen began yesterday to put the track at Centlivre's park in proper condition for the great race meet. It will be a "fast one" when they finish.

The L. A. W. meet association will give a grand smoker at the club house on next Monday evening in honor of their guests. A royal time is promised.

A. L. Randall last week purchased fifteen new Plymouth roadsters, which he put on the market at $65. On Saturday he sold nine of these wheels.

Some improvements are being made at the Cycling club house. Next week a 117 gallon hot water boiler will be put in for the bath tubs and the shower room.

The four teams which will be here August 5 include the Monarch, of Chicago; Cleveland, of Cleveland; Columbia, of Boston, and Spaulding, of Chicago.

The next bicycle meeting of the Fort Wayne club will be held on Monday, August 12, next Monday's meeting being postponed on account of the race meet, as the club house will be used for other purposes.

Julius Siemon, John Walfrom and Berne White went to Everett lake Sunday. While Siemon was out boat riding someone borrowed his bike and rode across a stubble field, puncturing the front wheel twice and also the rear tire.

Morgan & Co. have just received a shipment of the new Twentieth Century bicycle lamps. The lamp can be taken from the wheel and used to carry on dark nights by means of a swinging handle. It burns coal oil and gives a splendid light.

Gen. Lew Wallace says that the future of the bicycle depends on the women riders. "If the use of wheels were confined to men," he says, "the fad might spend itself in a season. But when the women take hold of the bicycle its future is secure."

The Pope Manufacturing company, through their agents, Morgan & Co., have presented the Fort Wayne Cycling club with a handsome group, pictures of McDonald, Bald and Sims, their racing team, who will be seen here at the races August 5.

C. Cherry, of this city, last week rode clear across the state on his wheel. When he reached the Illinois state line he turned about and started for home. Cherry says there were some awful stretches of sand road as he reached the state line. He enjoyed the trip, nevertheless.

Henry Taylor, Harry Pickard, Tony Arnold, Costa Shelton, Manny Rosenthal and Will Gouty, of the Fort Wayne Cycling club, made a club run to Decatur Sunday. They announced their coming by a telephone message sent down the day before. They took dinner at the Burt house.

There will be a very short run over town by the Cycling club next Sunday with the visiting guests, many of whom will arrive Saturday night to spend Sunday here. There will be a social all day at the club house and this will be continued through the evening. The club will keep open house.

Lee Castle, of Celina, O., rode to this city on his wheel Sunday and made very good time, considering the distance of about sixty-six miles. Mr. Castle left home at 3:30 a. m. and arrived here at 7:30. He remained over night the guest of friends and left on his wheel yesterday noon for home.

B. F. Leeser, a prominent hardware dealer of Albion, accompanied by Druggist H. D. Stone, of the same place, were in the city over Sunday on their wheels, the guests of Dick at the Randall. They state that a party of fifty wheelmen will come on their bikes from Avilla and Albion on Sunday to witness the races here.

Peltier has received his new Smalley racer. Its weight is seventeen pounds and it is a very handsome wheel. It has a rear fork of his own design, which gives the wheel a very narrow tread. Peltier is very proud of the new bike and the third time he rode it made a half mile in 1:02 1-5. Considering the fact that the track was not in the best condition, this is looked upon as remarkably fast time.

The following are the latest entries for the big meet, as shown by Secretary Steger's books: F. V. Rigby, Toledo, member of Cleveland racing team; T. R. Eddy, Columbus, O.; Harry Stonehill, Paulding, O.; Wm. Amies, Huntington; Clark Brown, Butler, Ind.; Louis W. Haines, Richmond, Ind.; Rossler D. Oiler, Chicago, Ill.; F. T. Lytle, Logansport, Ind.; F. G. Barnett, Cleveland; Will Colerick, Fort Wayne.

The tightness or looseness of the chain is one of those things that novices and frequently those who should have long got past that stage, pay absolutely no attention to. They struggle along with their chains dead tight, as generally received from the makers, and allow them gradually, or quickly, according to quality and amount of use, to get first comfortably loose, then to the rattling, and finally to the dangerous stage, when a fall, from the chain mounting the cogs and running off, when going down a steep hill draws forcible attention to the state of affairs. The correct adjustment of the chain is second to nothing in importance as far as easy running is concerned, not to mention the wear and tear of the machine. Every chain should have a little play; in the case of a covered-in chain, very slight; with a naked chain, rather more, to allow of the tightening influences of the mud and dust picked up.

Changes in the Grain Trade.

Wheat in the Chicago market fell from an average of $1.11½ a bushel in 1892 to 48 cents in January, 1895. This was of course largely due to the opening of the great wheatfields in the northwest. In The North American Review Mr. Egerton R. Williams calls attention to the fact that however much wheat is consumed at home it is the price in foreign markets that inevitably decides the price at home. "The surplus of exporting countries must always determine home values." England, the greatest consumer, fixes the price of American wheat and cotton and even of American railway stocks. That is because she has so much ready money. The ocean telegraph brought nearer together the importers of breadstuffs and their exporters. This had the effect to let all the world know where there was a scarcity and where a glut of wheat. One result was that the time honored custom of selling and buying grain and flour through commission merchants is now almost obsolete.

"In the latter part of the sixties" a system was quietly inaugurated which revolutionized the whole system of buying and selling grain. That was dealing in "futures"—buying and selling grain not in hand for future delivery. This used to be thought very wicked indeed. It is now recognized as a perfectly honest and legitimate transaction and has become the steady practice. Only for it, Mr. Williams declares that the disastrous effects of the crash of 1893 would have been much greater.

The collector of customs at San Francisco does ill to make that row against the admission of Zante currants free from duty. He will win the enmity of all the boarding house keepers in this land of light and liberty. Who does not cherish fond memories of rice pudding with Zante currants in it 365 days in the year? Still in his Eustachian tubes sounds the music of the sand he gritted in his teeth as he chewed those horrid Zante currants. He may have been wedded many years and had for long a snug home of his own where Zante currants, if they are ever used, have always the sand completely washed out of them. Yet still in nightmare dreams will come back at intervals the old grinding of his teeth when in a boarding house he ate rice pudding seasoned with Zante currants.

A VETERAN SCIENTIST'S WORK.

Career of Professor Davidson, the "Man Who Talked With the Stars."

Professor George Davidson, who was recently dismissed from the United States coast and geodetic survey to make a place for a younger man, has spent 50 years in the government service and is still full of vigor, endurance and energy at the age of 70. He attended Girard college, Philadelphia, in 1845, and then entered the coast survey at a salary of $25 per month, which was raised to $50 per month, with a subsistence allowance of $10 a month when on field work, after four years of service. In 1849, when the gold seekers began pouring into California, Davidson was sent to San Francisco to chart the practically unknown coast for the benefit of mariners at a salary of $400 per annum. In three years he and two assistants charted the entire coast from San Diego to Port Townsend.

In 1868 he was placed in charge of the western division, and his work was of incalculable benefit on land and sea. His influence with James Lick directed the millionaire's thoughts toward the establishment of the great Lick telescope and led the eccentric philanthropist to abandon his pet idea of building a monument to himself in the form of a magnificent pyramid rivaling Cheops itself. He has traveled all over the world to observe astronomical phenomena for the United States government, and his report on the resources of Alaska practically led to the purchase in 1867. He connected the west with the east by telegraphic longitude work, served on irrigation commissions in India, China, Egypt, Italy and California, judged the awards in astronomy and geodesy at the Paris exposition, and his rare talents and erudition in his chosen field of labor have caused him to be elected to 33 learned bodies and academies, including the Royal Astronomical society, the American Philosophical society, the National Academy of Sciences, the National and Royal Geographical societies and the Bureau des Longitudes of France.

He had many exciting adventures with Indians along the Pacific coast and in Alaska, and during the Indian war on Puget sound in 1855-6 worked for days in peril of his life until his courage won the admiration of one of the chiefs, who declared that no one should injure the "man who talked with the stars."

Where Is He Going?

Gentle reader, he is hurrying home. And it's house-cleaning time, too—think of that!

Fifteen years ago, he wouldn't have done it. Just at this time, he'd be "taking to the woods."

But now, things are different. His house is cleaned with Pearline. That makes house-cleaning easy.

Easy for those who do it—easy for those who have it done.

No hard work, no wear and tear, no turmoil and confusion, no time wasted, no tired women, no homeless men.

Everything's done smoothly, quickly, quietly, and easily. Try it and see.

Send it Back Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, do the honest thing—send it back. 381 JAMES PYLE, New York.

JACK SPRATT'S TANDEM.

Jack Spratt he grew so fat,
His wife she grew so lean,
O, happy thought, he went and bought
A tandem bike machine.

"Won't that be great, I lose my weight
By sweating on the wheel,
While Mrs. Spratt will gather fat,
Thus both gain by the deal."

Thus Mrs. Spratt on forward sat
As up each hill they ran,
And smiling said as on they sped,
"Jack is a pushing man."

Day after day they wheeled away
With merry song and shout,
And people cried, tho' long they bide,
"At last we find them out."

And when with smiles they coast for miles,
Down some steep hill in town
All said, though well 'tis plain to tell,
"They both are running down."

And now they bless, crowned with success
The wonder working wheel
Which gave the fat to Mrs. Spratt,
And Jack a form genteel.

SEASHORE EXCURSION.

The Pennsylvania Company Decides to Run One.

The Nickel Plate Puts on Two More Gravel Trains—The Wabash's New Hospital Site.

Fort Wayne citizens and those of the neighboring towns are about to have an opportunity to visit the Atlantic resorts at a cost far below the regular rates. On the 8th of August the Pennsylvania company will run an excursion from this city to Atlantic City, tickets for the round trip being placed at $15 and good returning until the 18th. The special train for this occasion will leave here at 5:40 a. m., reach Philadelphia at 6:25 the following morning and Atlantic City at 9.50 o'clock. It will go by way of the famous Horse Shoe curve route the most picturesque of the Allegheny mountain lines. This excursion is the first one to the seashore ever attempted in this city, and future affairs of the kind will depend upon the success of this one. Agent John E. Ross is now billing it and "feeling the pulse," as it were, of the public. It is too early to make any predictions regarding the results of Mr. Ross' labors, but The Sentinel sincerely hopes he may meet the success his worthy enterprise is entitled to.

THE NEW WABASH RAILWAY HOSPITAL.

The Peru Journal says that the deed for the new Wabash hospital grounds was filed for record last Friday. It transfers two acres, and the consideration named is $3,000. Plans and specifications for the handsome $4 000 structure have already been made and will, within a few days, be in the hands of W. S. Dance, superintendent of bridges and buildings. The plans will soon be submitted to bidders, and within the next thirty days the erection will be commenced on the ground north of the D. R. Bearss homestead in Ridgeview. Bids will also be submitted shortly for sewerage and water. It is expected that the hospital will be ready to occupy within four months.

TWO MORE GRAVEL TRAINS.

Two more gravel trains were put in operation on the Nickel Plate yesterday, making four now in service between Bellevue and Chicago. One of these new trains has been assigned to the western district and the other to the eastern district. The crews are, east end: Conductor, D. R. Denbow; Brakemen J. F. Long, C. Wishart and W. H. Granneman. West end: Conductor C. LaPoint; Brakemen W. L. Stanley and O. Ohlfest.

REV. GREEN GIVES A RECEPTION.

Rev. John H. Green, janitor at the electric works, and Miss Eliza Kinchlow, of Van Wert, were married in that city last Sunday and are now keeping house at No. 37 Grand street. Last night the bride and groom gave a banquet in honor of their friends and nearly all of the participants were employes of the electric works. Rev. Green called to his assistance John Dalton, and to that gentleman's efforts is due much of the credit for the success of the affair. J. E. Smith, who was at Springfield, Ill., undergoing treatment for an injured eye, has returned to his duties in the Wabash shops, the wounded optic being entirely well.

W. J. Wheeler, of the Pittsburg tin shop, and J. F. Magers, of the machine department, members of the True Blues, are working again after camping a week at Indianapolis.

George Hilgeman, an employe of the electric works, had his right arm painfully cut in some machinery last night. The bones were not broken and no permanent injury will result.

The shipments today from the electric works were an eighty-light Wood arc machine to Mt. Pleasant, Pa., and material for a 400-light plant, incandescent system, to Salem, Ohio.

Fred Paul, the veteran employe of the Pittsburg planing mills, has resumed his shop duties after a two weeks' sojourn at Milwaukee, Wis. His daughter was up north with Mr. Paul.

James Ottinger, who was the guest of his cousin, Passenger Brakeman I. F. Rodenbaugh, over Sunday, returned to his home in Mansfield, Ohio, yesterday. Mr. Ottinger is the deputy auditor of Richland county.

A piece of steel flew out from beneath a hammer yesterday and embedded itself in the arm of William Kruger, an employe of the Pittsburg shops. Dr. George C. Stemen found that the metal had not severed an artery and concluded that the operation of removing it would only inflict useless pain, so the piece will remain in the man's arm. Mr. Kruger will, it is expected, be able to resume work in a few days.

The Railroad Gazette reports ninety-nine railway accidents in June, in which thirty-five persons were killed and eighty-three injured.

The Atlantic express, consisting of ten cars, was hauled last Friday from Altoona to Harrisburg on the Pennsylvania road, 132 miles, in 153 minutes.

The Voluntary Relief department of the Pennsylvania lines east of Pittsburg was established in 1886, and since that time has disbursed in benefits $4,167 137.06.

Assistant Shop Clerk J. H. Holbrock has returned from Rome City, where he spent a week with his family in the Peters' cottage. Mrs. Holbrock is still at Rome City.

Nickel Plate Conductor Sealey is taking a short vacation to look after some private affairs. Conductor Kitzelman, of the same road, resumed work yesterday, after a brief absence.

David N. Yeomans, a widely known railroad man who was for many years engaged in introducing the Westinghouse brake on American roads, died at New York last week, aged fifty-six years.

No. 16, a Nickel Plate locomotive, came down from Stony Island last night, looking as good as new. It has been thoroughly overhauled, and will now go into service on the Third district, in charge of Engineer Sharer.

A. J. Gerard, yardmaster at Grand Rapids, Mich., stopped over night here. He was en route to Huntington, where his wife's father resides. Tony is an old Fort Wayne boy, being a son of Anthony Gerard, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop.

Mrs. Thomas Stonebrook, wife of the well known painter in the Pittsburg shops, has gone to Sheldon, Ind., where her brother-in-law, Stephen Vardeman, is lying very low with consumption. The sick man is not expected to live more than a few days.

H. S. Moore, who has been in the passenger department of the Pennsylvania road since 1867, died of old age on Saturday. For some years he had been on the pension list, but came to his desk regularly to see if there was anything he could do.

The Wabash Plaindealer says: "Sunday Mrs. John Curry, accompanied the Wabash Toledo excursion as far as Napoleon, Ohio, where she stopped off to visit friends. Returning the first section did not stop at Napoleon, and Mrs. Curry took the second section. On arriving at Fort Wayne she was informed that her train did not go farther west than Fort Wayne. Mrs. Curry explained matters to the Wabash officials at Fort Wayne and an engine and one coach were sent to Wabash to bring her home, she arriving here at 3 o'clock. It isn't often that a special is run for a single passenger."

The Lutheran church at Bingen, Ind., a little town twelve miles south of this city, on the Grand Rapids road, will be fifty years old next Sunday. Great preparations for the proper observance of the semi-centennial are now under way. Pastor Hugo has written to all the surviving former pastors of that church, inviting them to be present on that occasion. He has also issued invitations to Lutheran pastors and congregations in this city to participate in the celebrations and the prospects for the largest gathering ever known in that section of the country is exceedingly good. There is some talk of running an excursion out from this city if satisfactory arrangements can be made with the railway company. It is a little late, however, for such arrangements and those who attend the celebration will probably have to drive out to Bingen.

Family of Big Men.

There was a reunion of the Coleman family at Tionesta one day last week. Harmon Coleman and his wife are the father and mother, and they are of only ordinary stature. But their sons are extraordinarily big men.

J. F. is 6 feet 0 inches; Henry, 6 feet 3 inches; William, 6 feet 3 inches; J. N., 6 feet 5 inches; S. W., 6 feet 3 inches, and Frank, the short one of the stalwart family, exactly 6 feet. These measurements were all taken in stocking feet. The total height of the entire sextet collectively is 37 feet 6 inches.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Caillouette, Druggist, Beaversville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at Dreier & Bro.'s Drug Store.

German Puffs.

One pint flour, 2 tablespoonfuls sugar, pinch of salt, 1½ teaspoonfuls Royal Baking Powder, 3 tablespoonfuls butter, 4 eggs, 2 ounces sweet almonds, 3 drops Extract Bitter Almonds, ½ pint cream, ½ cupful sultana raisins, ½ wineglass rum. Rub butter and sugar to white, light cream; add eggs (whole) 1 at a time, beating three or four minutes between each addition; blanch the almonds. (See receipt for Almond Pudding.) Sift together flour, salt, and powder, which add to butter, etc., with almonds, raisins, extract bitter almonds, cream and rum. Mix whole together into smooth batter as for pound cake; fill well greased cups; bake in fairly hot oven 20 minutes; at end of that time insert straw gently. If it comes out clean they are ready; if any of uncooked batter adheres to straw, must be set carefully back few minutes longer.

Sweet Potato Buns.

Three large sweet potatoes, 1½ pints flour, pinch salt, 1½ teaspoonfuls Royal Baking Powder, 1 pint cream. Boil potatoes tender, rub them very fine with cream. Sift together flour, salt, and powder; add to potato preparation; mix into rather firm, smooth dough; form into round pieces size of small egg; lay on greased tin; bake in hot oven 20 minutes.

Breakfast Biscuit.

Take 1 quart sweet milk, ¼ cupful melted butter, a little salt, 2 tablespoonfuls Royal Baking Powder, flour enough to make a stiff batter; do not knead into dough, but drop into buttered tins from a spoon; bake in a hot oven—unless it is hot they will not be light and tender.

The Ohio State Food Commission's official test showed Royal Baking Powder absolutely pure. No other baking powder tested contained less than 10% of impurities, which impurities were mostly alum.

ROOTS - ROOTS.

THEY APPEAL TO EVERY HOUSEKEEPER.

We thought when we opened the big Carpet sale of a few days since, we could at the prices sell a good many yards, and make business where it is usually dull in July, but we did not know we were going to do such a rushing business as has been done. It's a Carpet sale without a precedent—beyond possible imitation. We are going to sell some carpets along these lines this week that will enable you to furnish a room or two at less prices than has ever been known.

MOQUETTE CARPETS—elegant patterns; Carpets that we are not going to ask $1.00 and $1.20 a yard, as we could easily do for the qualities, But 75c.

BODY BRUSSELS—Bring them down to the price of a choice Ingrain—and we're not going to ask you $1.20 a yd., which is the value, but 88c.

TAPESTRY BRUSSELS—You can easily see how much better than an Ingrain these are in wear and looks, and the price will not be 50c nor 60 either, But 38c.

These three lines are so good we stand them out in our Carpet room open for inspection and comparison.

STOCKINGS.

Russets seem to be the rage—all want a pair or two, Ladies and Children.

Three lines of Children's Russet Stockings, all seamless and bearing that imprint ONYX—124. 15 and 18c

Ladies' Russets—seamless, in three or four different shades, at 12½c a pair.

FOR BOYS.

We have an extra good thing for a pair of pants or a suit—a clean Tittco wool mixed Tweed at 40c, better than any yet shown. Mothers will do well to look these over.

OUTING FLANNELS.

We are now selling lots of these—Outing Flannels at 5c a yard can be seen all over, but no such quality nor no such patterns as these in this lot of ours at 5c, they can be found in the 7 and 8c kinds. Ours 5c.

CHILDREN'S WAISTS

For wee folks and up to 12 & 14 years

Fern's Waists from 5 years up to 14, single and double waists, 25, 50 and 75c.

Double V waists 2 years up to Misses, 50c.

Balls' waists, 75c.

Jersey ribbed waists with these, no vests needed, 3 years up to 12, 35c.

HOT WEATHER STUFF—6¼c.

The hot weather washable stuffs now here—we mark down to such a low figure as to make them fairly snap and bound out. We make them at a price that will bring the public here this week as they did last, by the thousands.

There are Iridescent cloths, white & colored ground Pongees, Lisetta cloths, Organdies, Lawns, Dimities, all choice printed designs, made to sell 10c, 12½c and 15c, Your choice 6 1-4 Cents.

NEW BLACK GOODS

Seems a little early to you, perhaps, but it's not. The black dress is an all the year around dress, and now's its season. If you would know what the newest weaves are, stop by the Black Goods counter.

Figured Mohairs 40c up to $1.

HERE'S ANOTHER ONE!

Edith Miller Asks for a Divorce From Wm. Miller.

Elizabeth Noble and Catherine Larrimore Granted Divorces From Their Husbands by the Court.

The mercury of the thermometer would have to be up above the 100° mark or below the zero point if, in this time of divorce epidemics, a single day should pass without the records of the courts showing either an application for a divorce or the granting of one. Not having reached either of these limits, but standing at 75° in the shade at 2 o'clock, the newspaper reporters, therefore, looked for a divorce case today, and it came when, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, T. W. Wilson, the attorney, walked into the office of the county clerk and handed to Frank Beholt, the clerk of the circuit court, a petition for a divorce, the plaintiff being Edith Miller and the defendant William M. Miller. The complaint stated that the parties had been married a year ago last May, had one child and that the defendant was addicted to the intemperate use of intoxicating liquor and was cruel and inhuman to his wife. For these reasons the plaintiff asked for a divorce.

COURT NOTES.

In the superior court a divorce was granted to Elizabeth H. Noble from William H. Noble. Catherine Larrimore was also granted a divorce from Levi Larrimore. The causes for divorce in both of these cases have already been given in THE SENTINEL.

The will of Henry Spitler has been filed with the county clerk. He bequeaths his property to his wife.

THE FUNERALS.

The funeral of the late Esquire George Bullard will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from 36 East Fifth street.

The funeral of the late Solomon DeRome will be held from St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

NORTH SIDE NOTES.

Jottings From a Roaming Scribe in That Pretty Suburb.

A twelve-foot sewer is being laid from Cass street to the Lake Shore railroad, thence south to a point near the Wells street bridge, where it will empty into the St. Mary's.

The North Side Baptist mission is in good condition, its Sunday school being conducted by C. R. Jenne, who beside ability, evinces in a marked degree the Christian spirit.

The energetic, young minister of the Trinity M. E. church has cleared the congregation of a $400 debt.

Miss Annie Racine proposes to spend several months at Indianapolis in cultivating her voice.

One of our enterprising citizens on Second street has laid a private line for water, the length of the square. Just why the petitions for water pipes on this little street are denied, where First, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth streets have it, is a standing conundrum.

The suburban improvements in the way of building are due to the efforts of C. F. Pfieffer, who a few years ago erected a fine residence just outside the city limits. This part of the city will in a short time compare well with the west side.

HOLDAN.

Last evening the Y. P. S. C. E. of Westminster Presbyterian church met for the semi-annual meeting and election of officers. AFFECTED BY CRIME.

REMARKABLE POWERS EXHIBITED BY FRANK POWELL OF WISCONSIN.

His Peculiarly Nervous and Sensitive Temperament—Why He Didn't Buy a House, Couldn't Rest In a Room In Which a Brutal Murder Had Been Committed.

Dr. D. Frank Powell, mayor of La Crosse, Wis., who, under the name of White Beaver, is also head chief of the Winnebago Indians, is possessed of a peculiarly nervous and sensitive temperament. It is not affection, for probably no man living is less affected. Speaking of this when in St. Louis a few days ago, Dr. Powell said to a reporter:

"I have never been able to account for it. Individuals quickly repel or attract me. Sometimes a man with whom I shake hands, and who is apparently a pleasant gentleman, causes me to shudder. I at once become aware that his disposition is antipathetic to and not in harmony with mine. On the other hand, I am strongly drawn toward others. Houses and rooms have an even more remarkable effect on me. You will hardly believe it, but I can never rest anywhere where the former occupants have led a quarreling, bickering life. An indescribable uneasiness comes over me, and I am miserable until I find other quarters.

"An instance of this occurred some years ago in my own town. My wife and myself were thinking of buying an eligible home that became vacant. Fortunately we decided to rent it for awhile before making the purchase. From the first I found the rooms unbearable. There was some influence in the atmosphere that was utterly repugnant to me. After a few days and nights of unrest I said to my wife, 'Why did you never tell me that Mr. and Mrs. —— did not live happily together?'

"My wife then told me the story of the domestic infelicity of the owners of the house, which had been notorious among the ladies of the town, but which had never reached me. Naturally we decided against the investment.

"Some years ago I was at Minneapolis on business. I registered at the best hotel. The proprietor, being an old friend of mine, directed that I be assigned one of the best rooms in the place. It was an elegant apartment, opening out on a balcony, and under ordinary circumstances I should have been greatly pleased with it.

"During the first night, however, I never closed my eyes. In the morning I requested the clerk to give me another room. He seemed surprised and so did the proprietor. 'Why, doctor,' exclaimed the latter, 'you have the nicest room in the hotel! You surely are not in earnest.'

"'I am very much in earnest,' I replied. 'In fact, if this is the only room you can give me, I shall have to go to the other hotel.'

"At his request I accompanied him up stairs to the distasteful chamber. He pointed out its advantages, in which I readily concurred. 'But, colonel,' I added, 'something once happened in this room.' He looked me steadily in the face for a moment, changed color and proceeded to pull the massive bedstead from the wall. Immediately behind the head of the bed was a dark spot. I recognized it at once as blood. The colonel then confessed that this was the very room in which a cruel murder had been committed, the assassin having gained entrance by the balcony and dispatched his victim with a coupling pin. How the blood spot remained after the room had been repapered no one could explain. The landlord had put me there never dreaming that one who had seen so much of wild western life could have scented out the evil associations of the place."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

At Miss Marion's Touch.

Baby Marion Cleveland will probably touch the button that will start the machinery at the opening of the Cotton States and International exposition. An operator in Atlanta will give the signal, and at the other end of the circuit, Gray Gables, 1,000 miles away, a touch of the button will send the current that starts the wheels.

The exposition directors desire that the little maid Marion shall touch the button. If she does not, Mr. or Mrs. Cleveland will. Mr. Cleveland was originally invited to be present at the opening, Sept. 18. He replied that his engagements would allow him to remain but a few hours on that day if he should go, and he arranged to go Oct. 16, which will be president's day.—New York World.
